WENTWORTH, N. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—The elusive Libby Holman, once the toast of Broadway, slipped into this county seat town today and within an hour had been arrested and released in $25,000 bail to face a charge of killing Smith Reynolds, 1-1-millionaire playboy husband.

Tonight she returned to the seclusion from which she came today, heavily veiled, to take a silent part in the brief courtroom drama which greeted her freedom until her trial.

From a small room in a country hotel she sent an appeal to the public to leave her alone so that she may regain her health.

When the raven-haired singer of torch songs will go on trial remained in doubt tonight.

May Delay Trial

A special term of Forsyth county superior court has been requested to begin September 5, but Carlisle Higgins, solicitor for the district, who will prosecute Libby and Ab Walker, Reynolds' friend, jointly indicted with the 26-year-old widow, said he could not be present at that term of court.

The next regular term begins October 3.

Except that she will spend tonight in a hotel here, closely shielded by her father, Alfred Holman, of Cincinnati, and brother, Alfred Holman Jr., Libby's plans for the future were not revealed.

Holman Sr., an attorney, flatly refused to permit his daughter to either answer questions or pose for photographs.

Sought in four states since her indictment with Walker last week, Libby surrendered voluntarily this afternoon and obtained her release through a writ of habeas corpus before Judge A. M. Stock.

Dressed in mourning and heavily veiled, she sat silently through the brief proceedings in which the state, through Solicitor Carlisle Higgins, contended to bail, announcing there was insufficient evidence now to support a first-degree murder charge.

It was the same announcement and in almost identical words that made Saturday by Higgins when Libby's co-defendant, Albert (Ab) Walker, 19-year-old Winston-Salem youth, who was a chum of Reynolds, obtained his release under $25,000 bond.

After the hearing, which was witnessed by a crowd that filled the small, brick courthouse, Libby went to Reidsville, seven miles away, in an automobile with her brother, Alfred Holman Jr., and Dr. M. P. Cummings, Reidsville physician.

Chamberlin May Appear In Lancaster's Behalf

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Clarence Chamberlin, trans-Atlantic aviator, said this afternoon he and his wife might fly to Miami tonight to appear as character witnesses at the murder trial of his friend, Captain William N. Lancaster.

"Both my wife and I should like to help Captain Lancaster if we can," he said. "I can't say at this time whether we shall go. If we do we shall have to start at midnight to be down there in time."

STATE RESTS CASE IN MURDER TRIAL OF BRITISH FLYER

Lancaster Takes Stand

Mrs. Keith-Miller Is Grilled.

BY REX SAFFER.

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Dramatic recitation by Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller of her love for Haden Clarke, young author, and of a love that changed to "intense fondness" for Captain W. N. Lancaster, charged with the slaying of Clarke, today preceded the closing of the state's case against the British flyer.

As she walked from the witness stand after a pitched oral battle from the stand with State Attorney Vernon Hawthorne, Mrs. Keith-Miller became semi-hysterical.

"They're crucifying me," she wept to acquaintances at the courtroom door.

Lancaster himself, poised and calm, took the witness stand in the afternoon to relate in detail his experiences up to the time he left Miami March 6, 45 days before his return the day before Clarke was killed, on a western aviation venture by which he hoped to gain funds for the living expenses of Mrs. Keith-Miller, Clarke and himself.

He was the first defense witness.

The parade of famous aviators to the witness stand to testify as character witnesses for Lancaster is expected to begin tomorrow afternoon.

James M. Carson, chief of defense counsel, had a telegram tonight from Rex Gilman, commander of the aviators post of the American Legion, New York, saying the plane in which he was flying to Miami with Lieutenant Big Boyer, famous army pilot, and Clyde Pangborn, round-the-world flyer, landed in Savannah, Ga., where they would spend the night. They are expected in Miami about noon tomorrow. They are flying a biplane.

Albert H. Hamilton, ballistic expert, Auburn, N. Y., also is on his way to Miami. Mr. Carson said, to testify for the defense. He is expected to refute testimony given by an undertaker as to the significance of the absence of powder marks on Clarke's head, Clarence Chamberlain, famous trans-Atlantic flyer, said in New York.

Young Voters To Form Crisp Club Here Today

Organization of the Young Men's Crisp Club of Fulton County is to be effected at a meeting of a number of Crisp's younger supporters at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the main ballroom at the Piedmont hotel.

Plans for the meeting were completed Monday by a pre-organizing committee which has been at work for about two weeks.

Today's meeting will be addressed by H. M. Rome, and W. V. Dykes, of Americus, co-managers of Judge Crisp's campaign for the senate seat made vacant by the death of Senator William J. Harris. Officers are to be elected and plans for a general campaign in Fulton county discussed. The public is invited.

Two Aged Neighbors Jailed In Mississippi's Murder

NATCHEZ, Miss., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Tall-tale finger prints tonight placed charges of murder against Richard Dana, 61, and his housekeeper, Octavia Dockery, 60, for the slaying of Jane Surget Merrill, 68, spinster, on her estate on the outskirts of Natchez.

With the charges Sheriff Clarence P. Roberts believed he had cleared the mystery of the Thursday night killing of the lonely old lady, who deserted friends and society 40 years ago for a hermit existence on her ancestral estate.

Discovery of finger prints of both Dana and Dockery on articles in the Merrill home indicated, the sheriff said, that the two eccentricals had slain their eccentric neighbor because of bitter feeling over the Dana-Dockery goats prowling over the Merrill place.

Since the body of Miss Merrill was found in bushes 200 yards from her home, Dana and his housekeeper have been held in the Natchez jail as suspects. Tonight the sheriff said the

DICKINSON SEES PLOT IN DATE

ALGONA, Iowa, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, tonight by Senator L. J. Dickinson, of Iowa, keynote speaker at the republican national convention, with attempting to divert attention from President Hoover's speech of acceptance by holding a hearing on charges brought against Mayor James Walker, of New York, next Thursday.

Senator Dickinson's telegram read:

"It was reported in the press some days ago that you would hold the Walker hearing on the day of the president's acceptance speech."

"It was further stated that this was for the purpose of diverting attention from the president's speech by a dramatic sideshow that would gain widespread publicity and you considered it a bit of smart politics."

"It seemed incredible at the time. It now appears to have been true. Your evident lack of sportsmanship and sense of fair play calls for no comment."

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Mayor James J. Walker, facing a public hearing before Governor Roosevelt Thursday on charges of official misconduct, denied with added vehemence tonight any allegation of wrongdoing.

In a comparatively brief four-page communication to the governor, Walker called Samuel Seabury a "reckless and partisan prosecutor" and declared Seabury conducted a "one-sided inquisition" before the Hofstadter legislative committee.

In New York former Mayor John F. Hylan issued a statement saying Walker should resign immediately as a protest against what he called the "unfairness and injustice" of being compelled to defend himself in an atmosphere "which is bound to be political."

May Question Seabury

Walker, talking with New York reporters, indicated strongly he would insist upon an opportunity to cross-examine witnesses at Thursday's hearing.

This was taken to mean he would seek to question Seabury and thus reverse the roles they played at the Hofstadter committee hearings, when Walker was accused to long interrogation by Seabury.

Walker's communication of tonight

Barkley Leads Field In Kentucky Primary

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Senator Alben W. Barkley, fighting for a chance to be the first Kentuckian in 30 years to serve more than six years in the United States senate, was in the lead today on the face of incomplete returns from Saturday's primary election in Kentucky.

SSenator Barkley increased his lead to more than two to one over former United States Senator George E. Martin. On the basis of returns from 1,829 precincts out of the state's 4,195, Senator Barkley had 59,897 votes compared to 25,058 for Martin, and 2,764 for Dr. J. F. Wright.

In the spirited contest for Kentucky's nine seats in congress, all from the state at large, leaders were: Fred M. Vinson, 12,488; Brent Spence, 12,144; A. J. May, 11,859; Virgil Chapman, 11,718; John Young Brown, 9,921; W. V. Gregory, 9,896; Glover H. Cary, 9,551; C. R. Carden, 8,181, and Finley Hamilton, 7,408. The returns were from 573 precincts. Carden, Cary, Chapman, Gregory, May, Spence and Vinson are incumbents.

FIRE PROTECTION SOUGHT IN DEKALB

Big Loss in Residence
Blaze Alarms Residents
Outside Cities.

While fire department officials of Atlanta showed little or no indication to relent in their ruling against use of city apparatus in fighting conflagrations in DeKalb county, citizens of the East Lake section of DeKalb were seeking ways and means of obtaining some safeguard against repetition of a disastrous blaze which Sunday morning destroyed a $50,000 residence.

Alarmed by the attitude of the Atlanta and Decatur fire departments—of which refused to send apparatus to extinguish the flames which destroyed the home of Lucia M. Morris, 2139 East Lake road—DeKalb residents living outside the corporate limits of both cities announced their willingness to form a bonding corporation to insure payment for fire-fighting service rendered by one of the two departments.

Members of the board of firemasters of Atlanta council reiterated their previously adopted policy of refusing to send city fire-fighting equipment into outlying sections of DeKalb county without the existence of any provision for absorbing the costs incidental to such efforts. They pointed to the action recently taken by the DeKalb commissioners in notifying Atlanta council that DeKalb had no legal way of absorbing such costs and to the firemaster's ruling, issued several days ago, against the city department answering any appeal from DeKalb sections.

Alderman J. R. Seawright, chairman of the board of firemasters, pointed out that his board considered it an unfair imposition on the taxpayers of Atlanta for the city fire department to answer, at Atlanta's expense, fire calls from sections in DeKalb county which even the Decatur fire department refused to heed. Seawright intimated that his board might be willing to consider any proposal DeKalb citizens might offer whereby costs of responding to such calls would be underwritten by a citizens' organization.

But the day's leading feature was a round of golf and a full athletic confession from Babe Didrikson, an incredible human being.

Extortion Charged By Beaten Banker

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 8.—(AP)—In his first comprehensive statement since he was kidnapped from his Taylorville home, John B. Colgrove, former bank president, today said a plot to extort $30,000 in cash under threat of death was the motive for the kidnapping.

After a terrific week of competition, in which she broke world's records with the javelin, the hurdles and the high jump, I saw her play her eleventh round of golf and her performance here is still beyond all understanding.

With borrowed clubs, over a strange course, not having played for many weeks, she played one practice nine holes and then came back in 43 with several three-putts. I saw her understand that you are looking at the most flawless section of muscle harmony, of complete mental and physical co-ordination the world of sport has ever known.

This may seem to be a wild statement, but it happens to be 100 per cent true. There is only one Babe Didrikson and there has never been another in her class—even close to her class.

In the afternoon I saw Helene Hadison win the 100 meters free-style swimming championship for women against a crack field in the fast time of 1 minute 6.8 seconds, just one-fifth on a second behind the world's record, which she happens to hold besides every other free-style record on the book.

The day's leading feature was a round of golf and a full athletic confession from Babe Didrikson, an incredible human being. She is beyond all belief until you see her perform. Then you finally

COUNTY AGREES TO ASSUME SHARE OF SEWER LOAN

Longino Authorized To Negotiate With City for Contract; Direct Relief
Plea Held Up.

Fulton county commissioners Monday afternoon in special session agreed to assume its pro rata share of the expense incident to modernization of the metropolitan sewer system on "the taxable value of property therein."

George F. Longino, chairman of the finance committee of the commission, was instructed to negotiate with the city for a contract, paying the way for immediate application for the $10,000,000 needed for the projected improvements.

Action of the commission was precipitated by a protest from Mayor James L. Key, who branded the restricted approval of the sewer program which the commission made last week as "doing much toward hindering the success of the program."

He asserted in his communication to the commission that as a result of his conferences with Longino and Walter B. Stewart, of the commission, that he was under the impression that the county "stood ready to share its just portion of the expense."

Direct Relief Held Up.

In another letter to Governor Richard B. Russell, the mayor asked that no action be taken immediately on a joint petition from the city and county for $1,000,000 for direct relief, saying that the petition was filed prematurely and that it is not yet in the proper form.

He added that if the $1,000,000 is obtained from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the county would be furnished to thousands and that the petitions for direct relief could be cut.

In addition to empowering Longino to proceed with approval of the sewer renovation plan as soon as the city makes a contractual obligation concerning retirement of the sewer indebtedness, the commission voted $5,000 for direct relief to supplement $8,000 previously appropriated for that purpose. The fund is to be administered by Kendall W. Wiegler, county trustee, and will be used to buy food.

The $5,000 is to match a similar amount furnished by the city and is to be handled through the central relief commission. Sites for relief centers are to be established inside the city limits.

Congressman Charles C. Crisp and Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. Monday were started on what promises to be their heaviest speaking schedule since the campaign for the senate was pitched.

Congressman Crisp was at Griffin Monday and Governor Russell at Clarksville, Abil Nix at Hawkinsville and Eugene Talmadge at Conyers. John N. Holder, in Atlanta, issued a statement advocating the annual inventory and sale of all unserviceable property as an economy move.

In minor races, Hamilton Ralls, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, and joint petitions of Fulton county and the city for two reasons as follows:

1. That the petitions are not fortified with such facts as are necessary to be shown in order to secure favorable action.

2. That approval of the $10,000,000 for sewer improvements would furnish employment to thousands of citizens and that the amount of the direct loans could be reduced in his opinion.

The mayor promised the governor that he would make a direct appeal to the state's chief executive as soon as the petitions to fortify the direct loan petitions and the sanction of all political sub-division in the affected area of the sewer program has been secured.

Brave Cashier Thwarts Birmingham Bank Raid

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 8.—(AP)—A cool-headed suburban bank cashier early this afternoon thwarted the attempt of a lone masked robber to hold up the bank.

Instead of obeying the man's command to hand over the money, H. G. Frickett, of the West End Savings bank, ducked behind the counter and touched off a burglar alarm.

The robber, hearing the screaming alarm, fled the bank and half a block away jumped into an automobile and escaped.

ROOSEVELT TREND SEEN BY LEADERS IN BUSINESS GAIN

Representatives of 19
States Freely Predict Democratic Victory at Polls in November.

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Business improvement, the stock market spurt and the recent rise in commodity prices were attributed in part by democratic leaders today to what they called the "growing conviction" Governor Roosevelt will be elected president.

The lieutenants of democracy had gathered in the party's national headquarters for the first of a series of strategy conferences with James A. Farley.

They came from 19 states scattered across the map. Behind closed doors of a hall in the newly-opened headquarters, they spent five hours going over party programs, party prospects and plans for the Roosevelt-Hoover battle.

As they left the parley, they made a unanimous claim that democratic victory in November already is in sight. Each of the 24 conferees claimed his state "certain for Roosevelt."

The upturn in economic conditions was traced to the democratic party by three members of the "floating" advisory committee which will help Farley settle important problems of party strategy and policy.

"As the conviction grows upon the people that Governor Roosevelt is to be elected in November, the day's confidence is manifesting itself in a widespread indication of business improvement."

"The recent upward trend in the stock market and the slight rise in commodity prices was to be expected," said Senator John S. Cohen, of Atlanta, Ga., vice chairman of the democratic national committee.

"It is an undisturbed fact that nine out of every ten people believe Governor Roosevelt is to be the next president of the United States, and the acceptance of this belief has

James Francis Burke Passes in Washington

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(UP)—James Francis Burke, 65, of Pittsburgh, Pa., general counsel for the republican national committee and close political advisor of President Hoover, died in Garfield hospital here tonight.

The cause of death was given as coronary thrombosis which followed after dilation of the heart had apparently occurred.

News of the passing of the Pittsburgh political leader was announced by the White House at 10:35 p. m. Earlier in the day, Burke had called at the White House for a conference with President Hoover.

The White House announced the president noticed Burke appeared ill and summoned his personal physician, Dr. Joel T. Boone, to examine him. Dr. Boone immediately ordered the republican committee counsel to Garfield hospital.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The most violent upswing in cotton in more than two years, the swiftest trading in stocks in nearly two years, and the sharpest advance in bonds in two months, marked the big bull push in the nation's leading financial markets today.

Cotton surged up more than $5 a bale, as the government estimated this year's crop below the average of recent years, and Wall Street quickly recalled that a short crop in that staple in 1921 was an important factor in boosting the markets out of the post-war economic difficulties.

Stocks met three successive waves of profit taking, and the last one was sufficient to reduce the day's advance substantially, but many leading issues closed $1 to $6 a share higher, and the turnover of 5,544,380 was the largest since October of 1930.

At the close of the day, many stocks were up $2 to $3 a share, it was a market which would have gladdened the hearts of the bulls in the prosperity-mad days of 1929.

The bond market was forging ahead in the last hour, when stocks were slipping off from the crest, and the turnover in this market, at $14,608,000 par value, reached the largest proportions since April, in fact the largest.

Spectacular Rise in Cotton Enriches Georgia $4,000,000

The spectacular rise in the value of spot cotton Monday of $5 or more a bale gives Georgia a paper value increase, based on the estimated size of the new crop, of over $4,000,000. Actually, it will have the effect of releasing thousands of bales of the old crop held by farmers, bankers and merchants in the small towns, it was stated here, and will liquidate their loans and melt frozen assets held by banks, and give the producers some spending money besides.

A tremendous amount of last year's crop still is held in Georgia, according to the Atlanta branch manager of one of the largest spot houses in the world, who gave some revealing figures.

"In Blakely, to mention one town, 11,000 bales of 1931 cotton are held," he said. "In Americus there are 14,000 bales. Other towns have cotton on hand in proportion, such as Augusta, center of a rich cotton area; Moultrie, Tifton, Macon, Columbus, to say nothing of the larger and smaller places,

ARKANSAS NAMES CANDIDATES TODAY

Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway, Widow of Late Senator, Seeks Full Term.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 8.—(AP) Fought out on issues growing out of present and past state administrations, the economic depression, and the $100,000,000 highway program of the past five years, the biennial democratic primary campaign in Arkansas ended tonight with seven men seeking to succeed Governor Harvey Parnell and Gentleman Named Pabst Interested in Cheese!

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(UP)—A gentleman named Pabst, which is a name revered in the brewing industry, said today that he wasn't interested in beer—of all things—but that he was mightily interested in cheese.

Fred Pabst Jr., executive vice president of a big Milwaukee brewing firm, started his conversation by saying, "Now take limburger, for instance."

Nobody wanted to take limburger, but Pabst insisted. And he won his point by proving, by facts and figures, that the beer industry is, after all, only a feeder for the cheese industry.

Running against Senator Hattie W. Caraway for re-nomination, Pabst was confronted with the longest ballot in years, an estimated 225,000 voters tomorrow mark their choices for these two offices and scores of other state, district and county places. The democratic nomination has been equivalent to election in Arkansas for many years.

Mrs. Caraway, appointed to the senate last December by Governor Parnell to succeed her husband, the late Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway, and later elected at a special election to fill out his unexpired term, thus becoming the first woman ever elected to the United States senate, brought the colorful Senator Huey P. Long, of Louisiana, into the state to aid her campaign. Opposing her are Charles H. Brough, 56, World War governor, who denounced Long for taking part in the campaign; Vincent M. Miles, of Fort Smith, 47, democratic national committeeman for Arkansas for 17 years; O. L. Bodenhamer, of Eldorado, 40, national commander of the American Legion in 1929; Supreme Court Justice W. P. Kirby, 65, a former senator and one of the "willful twelve" senators who opposed America's entrance into the World War; W. G. (Bill) Hutton, former sheriff at Little Rock.

running on a platform calling for repeal of the eighteenth amendment; and Melbourne M. Martin, of Little Rock, an attorney.

Governor Parnell, retiring after serving five years, first became active in the governor's race with speeches denouncing Dwight D. Blackwood, chairman of the state highway commission and an appointee of his. Later he came out in support of J. Mariott Futrell, 50-year-old chancellor of Paragould.

Other gubernatorial candidates are former Governor Tom J. Terral, the "no pardon" governor of 1925-28, making his fifth race for that office; A. B. Priddy, circuit judge at Russellville, who has charged in recent weeks that Parnell shifted his support from him to Futrell because he refused to cease attacking some members of the present administration; State Comptroller Howard A. Reed, who styles himself a "dark horse"; Arley Woodrow, a young attorney of Mena, and W. P. "Whippoorwill" Peas, of Wilson, of Little Rock, who has partly financed his campaign by selling subscriptions to a farm publication.

The polls open at 8 a. m. and close at 6:30 p. m.

RELIEF PLANS FRAMED AT FLORIDA MEETING

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Governor Carlton's state unemployment relief committee today adopted a plan of action calling for establishment of a central relief body in each county, for immediate application for federal aid funds to get the state program started, and for another application for funds as soon as detailed data on Florida's needs can be obtained.

The governor explained that Florida can get only as much of the $300,000,000 federal relief fund as it needs to relieve actual destitution after all local aid has been exhausted. He said whatever money the state gets must be used to finance public work which would not otherwise be done so that the greatest number of persons possible will be given employment.

The money thus advanced to Florida will be deducted from future federal appropriations to the state, he explained. Beginning in 1935, he said, one-fifth of each year's appropriation will be deducted until the full amount is repaid.

Counties, cities and self-liquidating projects may borrow from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, he added, but these loans will be separate from the state relief fund.

CITY TO ENFORCE LAW REGULATING BUSES AND TRUCKS

Acting on a recent resolution from city council, Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant Monday instructed W. R. Echols, city inspector of weights and measures, to enforce an eight-year-old ordinance forbidding buses, trucks and other motor vehicles weighing more than 22,000 pounds from operating over city streets.

Echols immediately began notifying operators of large motor vehicles, including the Georgia Power Company, which operates a fleet of heavy passenger buses, that the law would be enforced and that all such vehicles must be weighed for net and capacity tonnage on the city scales.

It was said by Echols that a reasonable time would be allowed for operators to have their vehicles weighed, after which strict enforcement of the ordinance will be carried out. In addition to fixing the weight of such carriers, the 1924 ordinance limits the width to 96 inches and the height to 12 feet. A special tax is provided for heavy interstate passenger buses, which will be stopped at the city limits for inspection, it was said.

STIMSON PRAISES ANTI-WAR TREATY

Secretary of State Says U. S. Will Do Her Part To Make Pact Effective.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson described the Kellogg-Briand pact tonight as a forceful instrument upon which the nations of the world could rest their hopes for peace. The American people, he said, would not fail to do their share in the endeavor to make it an "effective living reality."

His broad exposition of the views of the state department was delivered in a speech before the council of foreign affairs and broadcast in the National Radio forum of the Washington Star and the National Broadcasting Company at a time when the report of the special committee sent by the League of Nations to review the recent Sino-Japanese dispute in Manchuria is impending.

The secretary called the treaty to outlaw war more than a "mere gesture" and said that a nation which sought to "mask imperialistic policy under the guise of protection of its own nationals would soon be unmasked."

He reviewed the application of the treaty to the disputes between Russia and China and between Japan and China, both centering upon Manchuria and asserted that its operation in both of these cases had been frequent consultations among the diplomats of the nations that were signatories to the pact.

In the Russo-Chinese case he said that after 37 nations had joined the United States in urging that Russia and China settle the controversy peacefully, Russian troops were withdrawn after they had penetrated nearly a hundred miles into Manchuria.

Later, during the dispute between Japan and China during which the former country occupied all of Manchuria which has never been returned to China, the Kellogg-Briand pact again was called into force.

Stimson related that the American government had co-operated with the council of the League of Nations in the various negotiations which finally resulted in the warning to Japan and China by this country that it would not recognize any treaty or agreement brought about by means contrary to the Kellogg-Briand treaty, to which both countries were signatories.

He added that the League of Nations at a later meeting at which 50 nations were represented adopted a similar attitude, Japan alone refraining from voting.

There were other accidents, but these tell the tale of death and suffering in the wake of the growing accident wave, and the peril it presents to you.

Are you fully insured against abrupt halt of income should you be maimed? Are your loved ones safeguarded against privation if you should be killed?

Act today! The Constitution offers you the famous $10,000 travel accident policy issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago. This old, reliable concern has already paid more than $150,000 in claims to Constitution policy holders.

The policy, which costs only a small registration fee of $1 per year, provides for payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 in case of death resulting from certain accidents, heavy cash payments for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for total disability resulting from the stated accidents, and the cost is only about 2 cents per week.

Ten per cent of The Atlanta Constitution subscribers are thoughtful enough of themselves and loved ones to be protected with this travel and pedestrian accident insurance. Ninety per policy above the subscription price.

Those living in Atlanta and suburbs finding it inconvenient to pay the $1 registration fee in advance can have the insurance by paying a small registration fee of 20 cents with the application, and 20 cents per week for five consecutive weeks thereafter in addition to the subscription price.

Once the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation. If beneficiary is desired, full Christian name must be given and relationship of same to the insured must be stated.

THE RAILROADS AND THE SCHOOLS
CENTRAL OF GEORGIA

Parents who look to the public schools for the education of their children, and teachers whose livelihood comes from the school treasury, have an interest in the earning power of the railroads. Their interest is just as direct and vital as that of the owner of railway securities or the railway employe.

If the earning power of the railroads is crippled or destroyed, they cannot continue to pay the taxes which are such a substantial factor of the schools' revenue.

In the State of Georgia, for example, in the year 1930, the railroads paid taxes of $4,367,510, of which at least $1,250,000 went for the support of the schools. That is to say, 30 per cent of the tax money paid by the railroads in Georgia is used for school purposes. In some school districts the railroads pay more than half the taxes. Without railway tax money, the schools would have to close, or the taxes on others would have to be doubled.

Railway taxes in Georgia have steadily increased, while other taxes have decreased. In the 10 years from 1920 to 1930 the assessed taxable value of the public service corporations (including the railroads), as fixed by the Comptroller General, increased $50,822,257, or 30 per cent. In the same period all other taxable values, as returned to the local tax officers, showed a decrease of $94,344,966, or 8 per cent.

This process cannot continue indefinitely. Unless means are found to restore the earning power of the railroads, one of two results is inevitable—either schools will suffer, or other taxpayers will find their burden increased.

Those interested in the welfare of the public schools should demand that the railroads be accorded fair treatment, and that an end be put to the special privileges and discrimination in favor of the motor truck and bus, operated for profit on the highways.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

RETURN OF GARBO BRINGS CROWDS TO SHIP'S PIER

GOTHENBURG, Sweden, Aug. 8.—(AP)—A hundred straining policemen reinforced by strong-armed deckhands were required to restrain thousands of ardent admirers of Greta Garbo when the liner Gripsholm arrived here this noon.

True to the legend of elusiveness, Garbo did not make an appearance until long after the gangplank was lowered.

Her brother, Sven, and a party of newspapermen had boarded the vessel before it docked, but at first she refused to see the reporters.

Finally she admitted them to her cabin. She was wearing a gray toque, gray shoes and a yellow knitted suit. A gray coat hung carelessly from her arm.

"I cannot say whether I shall return to Hollywood," she told them, "but I shall tell you nothing of my plans."

She denied a report that she had bought a summer villa previously occupied by Ivan Kreuger.

DR. DODGE EXPLAINS MARKET REFERENCE

Referring to his talk before the James L. Key Bible School, Sunday, Dr. D. Witherspoon Dodge, of Oglethorpe University, Monday in a letter to The Constitution, amplified his remarks and stated that "the stock market rise was so incident with the launching of the republican campaign as to give rise to suspicion of sincerity."

INJURIES ARE FATAL TO HIRAM FARMER

A fractured skull received last Tuesday in an automobile accident near Atlanta, caused the death Monday afternoon of Otis Croker, 45, prominent farmer of Hiram, Ga., at Grady hospital.

Mr. Croker was injured when the truck he was driving collided with another truck on the Marietta-Atlanta highway, a short distance from Bolton.

Miss Donald Andrews, 20, of 625 Highland avenue, N. E., who was injured early Sunday morning in an automobile accident on Mount Perian road, near Northside drive, was reported Monday at Grady to remain in a critical condition.

She was given a blood transfusion Sunday. She was hurt when the car driven by Miss Helen Davidson, of 31 South Prado, skidded into a tree at the intersection. Three other occupants of the car were slightly hurt, and received treatment.

Guilt Denied.
NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(AP)—William J. Pender, 37, entered a plea of not guilty before Judge Joseph E. Corrigan in general sessions court today to an indictment charging grand larceny. He was remanded to Tombs prison in default of $3,000 bail pending trial.

Pender was alleged to have obtained $58,350 from a paying teller of the Chemical Bank & Trust Company by posing as an armored truck guard.

VICTORY IN PRIMARY
FORECAST BY BURCH

WRIGHTSVILLE, Ga., Aug. 8.—Speaking before a large crowd, R. E. Burch Jr., of Eastman, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, outlined in detail his campaign platform upon which he is confident of being elected to office over the field of seven candidates. Mr. Burch will return to Atlanta tonight he said, and has speaking engagements in north Georgia counties Wednesday and Thursday.

RUSSELL'S ATTACK
REFUTED BY CRISP

Congressman Shows He Did Not Violate Franking Privilege.

GRiffin, Ga., Aug. 8.—Renewing his attack on demagoguery and demanding a more straightforward discussion of issues of the hour, Congressman Charles R. Crisp, in continuing his campaign for the United States senate, tonight assailed Governor Russell for persistently misrepresenting his use of the franking privilege.

Addressing a large and enthusiastic audience in the Spaulding county courthouse, Mr. Crisp, dean of the Georgia delegation in the lower house and one of the triumvirate of democratic leaders in that body, told his listeners that Governor Russell was deliberately misrepresenting him in an effort to poison the minds of the voters of the state.

Citing a speech made by his opponent at Cartersville Saturday, the Georgia congressman, by way of describing the character of campaign being conducted against him, declared that Governor Russell had continued to make false charges against him in the face of earlier clear-cut denials.

Shows Postoffice Receipt. And then as a gesture toward ending the asserted misrepresentation once and for all, he laid before the crowd an official receipt from the United States postmaster at Washington showing that he had paid out of his own pocket the sum of $1,892 as postage on frankable material sent out during the current campaign.

"Under the law and practices that prevail," said Mr. Crisp, "I had a perfect right to send out this material (copies of speeches I had made on the floor of the house) without the payment of postage.

"But feeling that it would be an unjust advantage to take off my opponent and realizing that it might offer some cause of criticism, I deliberately paid out of my own pocket the sum of $1,892 for postage, and the official receipts which I hold in my hand will demonstrate.

"Despite this voluntary act of my own and despite a previous statement of the facts in language that all should be able to understand, my opponent continues to charge me with abuse of the franking privilege, thinking thereby he may be able to poison the minds of the voters.

Favors Full Discussion. "Let me express the hope," continued Representative Crisp, "that the campaign henceforward will be conducted on a higher plane with a dis-

RALLS BARES PLAN
FOR PROTECTION
OF STATE FARMER

Hamilton Ralls, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, said in Atlanta Monday that he would propose, if elected, legislation to protect the farmers of Georgia from the operations of crooks. Ralls' statement was prompted, he explained, after federal authorities arrested three men charged with cheating and swindling farmers.

"As to the merits of this particular case I know nothing," Ralls said, "but it is a well-known fact that this game of soliciting shipments of farm produce on commission, offering prices above the ruling market, and then failing to pay for such produce has been worked on the farmers of Georgia for years. It is a game of crooks which hurts the farmer as well as the established, reliable dealer.

"Through my own experience as a farmer I know what I am talking about. I also know that in each case where action has been taken it has been at the instance of federal authorities. I said in my opening speech that I would undertake, with the counsel of growers and legitimate dealers in farm commodities, to get legislation to protect farmers from the operations of these crooks and bring about a general improvement in the distribution of farm products in Georgia."

criticism, not of misrepresented non-essentials, but of the major problems and questions that confront the nation today.

"If Governor Russell and I disagree on problems that affect the public weal, let us, by all means, have a fair public discussion of them, in order that the people may easily choose between us."

He urged that the campaign not be permitted to drop to the low level of personalities and abuse.

For the most part, the address of Mr. Crisp, who is the head of the most important legislative committee in congress, dealt with questions which will have a bearing on the next administration in Washington.

He brought enthusiastic cheers from his audience when he predicted that the next administration will be democratic.

Playing the Hoover administration for its handling of economic problems, Judge Crisp cited the disastrous operations of the federal farm board. Incidentally, he revealed that he had dispatched to Washington today a vigorous protest to the board against any proposal to sell its present holdings of cotton, declaring that such a sale would depress the market. His protest, addressed to Chairman James C. Stone, of the board, read: "Cotton will begin moving in a few weeks. Price disastrous to farmers. If farm board places on market cotton it now holds it will depress price. I earnestly appeal to board to make public announcement that its cotton holdings will not be disposed of during this crop year."

CONYERS WARMLY
GREET'S TALMADGE

Fight for Cut in Freight Rates Is Renewed by Governorship Aspirant.

CONYERS, Ga., Aug. 8.—Business men of Conyers and farmers of this section put aside their affairs this afternoon and turned out in large numbers to give an enthusiastic reception to Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture and candidate for governor, who spoke for an hour and a half in his candidacy. There being no building large enough to accommodate he spoke in the open air.

The speaker was introduced by J. H. McCalla, prominent local attorney.

Prior to the speaking, R. O. Gailey announced through a megaphone that Commissioner Talmadge was to speak and all stores and business houses were closed to give opportunity for the crowd to attend.

More than 400 watermelons, provided by friends of the candidate, were served to the crowd immediately after the meeting.

Commissioner Talmadge, in his speech, struck back at those who have attempted to ridicule his fight for reduced freight rates, asserting that if his opponents did not believe he could do something in this matter, they would not be fighting him.

Mr. Talmadge said: "When a public official digs into the wrongs of those reaping where they do not sow, he makes enemies and draws all kinds of abuse."

"I have drawn the fire from many but they fail to tell you the truth as to why they are fighting me. Because I complained against the wartime freight rates that are paralyzing our railroads, shipping and business, and disgracing the workers, they are making it appear that I am against the railroads, the shipper and the worker."

Cites Specific Case. "Here is an instance of what I am talking about. On July 25 of this year, A. W. Barlow, under the name of Cedar Park Farm, shipped from McCalla, Ala., to Pittsburgh, three cars of melons. The melons were paid the loading and unloading charges. All the railroad did was to haul them. The melons sold for $715 and the railroad received $289.99, leaving Barlow, after paying commissions, $425.31. The melons sold for about 25 cents each, and brought the farmer less than one cent. One of my neighbors received only 70 cents for his shipment. Many shipments do not even bring the freight charges. Ofttimes the freight amounts to more than the cost of the goods."

"In the face of this, high officers of the railroads draw fat salaries of from $50,000 to $135,000 per year. The cost of the goods, the men are laid off, and the word is sent out that Talmadge is not safe, that he is against the railroads, against business and against the worker."

"Now, what applies to the melon grower applies also to the merchant and to the businessman. What I am trying to do is to bring about a reduction in such charges and realize that the farmer and the merchant may pick up the railroads get revenue and the men gain employment at living wages."

"They say that I cannot do anything about it. I tell you that it is not the man who runs around and says 'it cannot be done' who does it. I can. If they thought I could not, they would not be fighting me."

"Let them howl. I shall keep up the fight until something is done."

"The people will be better off with a friend for governor who will agitate the matter and try to do than with one who lines up with the enemy by saying that nothing can be done."

CAPTAIN THRASHER,
TALMADGE FLAYED
BY JOHN I. KELLEY

CLARKESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 8.—Charges that Eugene Talmadge and Captain J. C. Thrasher, now head of the pure food division of the department of agriculture, "virtually bankrupted" Telfair county in two years were made in a speech here today by John I. Kelley, an opponent of Talmadge in the gubernatorial contest.

Reading from a grand jury presentment made in 1923, Kelley said: "Captain Thrasher, as county commissioner, and Talmadge, as his attorney, took over the affairs of the county at a time when its assets exceeded liabilities by $15,917.32. They remained in office until legislated out two years later and during that time they spent $226,060.87 in cash derived from tax sources and left the county in debt $90,828.57."

"The grand jury charged," Kelley said, "that he (Thrasher) took $1,146 of county warrants issued by Wheeler county to Telfair county and, instead of turning the warrants over to Telfair county, he turned them over to Talmadge, who used them."

CARLTON QUESTIONS
SUSPECT'S DETENTION

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 8.—(P)—Governor Doyle E. Carlton today said he telegraphed Constable W. H. Mock, of Lake Wales, to explain why Mock kept Wallace Burke, of Jacksonville in secret confinement. He was arrested last week in connection with the murder in June of former Mayor Joe Beal at Lake Wales.

The governor said he received no reply to his message, which was addressed to Lake Wales, and would await the constable's answer before taking further steps in the case. He acted on a complaint made by Burke's attorneys, who notified him they were unable to learn where Burke was being detained since his arrest in Jacksonville.

The attorneys instituted habeas corpus proceedings in Polk county, claiming Burke was arrested on a "truth serum" charge and that his secret detention was illegal. A court writ could not be served, however, the attorney said, because Mock and his prisoner could not be located.

Mock obtained custody of Burke at Jacksonville last Wednesday night, and left ostensibly for Bartow. The prisoner and the constable dropped from sight then.

MAN FOUND SLAIN
IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(P)—Joseph Miller, returning home at 3 o'clock this morning stumbled over something in a burial bag which had been tossed into the middle of the street.

It was a dead man. Police found the man, about 35 years old, well dressed and well groomed, had been stabbed 20 times through the heart, apparently with an ice pick. The body was drawn tightly about his neck. The knees were doubled to the chin and tucked tightly with the arms "strapped to the sides."

There was no clue to the man's identity.

NIX ASKS VOTERS TO STUDY RECORDS
OF ALL ASPIRANTS

HAWKINSVILLE, Ga., Aug. 8.—Unless the voters of Georgia give as much time and serious consideration to the record and political character of the persons they want to fill their public offices as they do to their own personal affairs, they need not be surprised if a system of politics designed to benefit those who control it is continued in power," Abit Nix declared in a campaign address to a large crowd of men and women here Monday.

Mr. Nix will continue his tour of this section Tuesday with addresses at Vienna, Montezuma, followed by Conyers, during the week at Shalman, Dawson, Nashville, Adel, Thomaston, Barnesville, Griffin.

In his address here Monday night Mr. Nix declared that if personal and political character is to be regarded by the youth of the state as of practical value, their parents must inculcate in them the principles of honesty and integrity.

"The state becomes cynical and disposed to treat lightly, if not with contempt, the moral teachings of the home, the church and school are of small value if they are not practiced in politics, in business and in the professional world."

Thinking of Mothers. Mr. Nix said that many people were surprised when he began his campaign by advocating, for instance, reform of the state common school laws. It was claimed that the people in general are not interested in such things and, therefore, a candidate who brings to their attention such matters is "wasting his time."

Such an attitude, Mr. Nix asserted, "indicates that the people who express it have not begun to really seriously consider the fundamental reasons why government in a large degree is failing today to respond to the needs of the people."

"I am not thinking of what is 'practical' from a political standpoint," Mr. Nix declared. Pointing to a group of women in the audience he continued: "I am thinking of the mothers of this state who dream of the day when their children can go out into the world and find a better life. I am thinking of what our state should do for the children, thousands of them, who face a life of bitter disappointment unless those who have the means help give them the advantages they deserve."

Gets Warm Greeting. Mr. Nix was warmly greeted in Hawkinsville where the News and Dispatch has endorsed his candidacy in vigorous terms. A strong organization, including many younger men and women interested in his welfare program and his political idealism is under way and it is declared by them that he will certainly carry Pulaski county. At Ocella, Fitzgerald and intervening points Mr. Nix was hailed by his supporters whose enthusiasm is mounting daily.

Mr. Nix speaks Tuesday morning in Vienna, and again in the evening at Montezuma.

Hearing Postponed
In 'Sweatbox' Death

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 8.—(P)—Postponement until next Monday was ordered today for a preliminary hearing for two state prison camp officials, charged with murder in the recent "torture" death of Arthur Maillefert, 19-year-old Westfield, N. J., convict.

They are Captain George Courson and Guard Solomon Higginbotham, at liberty under $5,000 bond each pending trial October 3.

A Duval county grand jury indicted them for first-degree murder after Maillefert was found strangled to death in a prison sweat box, a heavy chain tied from his neck to an overhead rafter and his feet encased in wooden stocks.

The postponement was ordered because attorneys for the two prison camp officials were engaged in another court case.

Keaton Is Divorced
By Natalie Talmadge

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—(P)—A divorce from Joseph Francis (Buster) Keaton, film comedian, was awarded today as Mrs. Natalie Talmadge Keaton, who testified he neglected her, Mrs. Constance Talmadge Nether, former film actress and sister of Mrs. Keaton, corroborated her testimony.

An attorney for Mrs. Keaton, Jerry Geisler, informed the court a property settlement had been made and that a provision had been entered giving Mrs. Keaton custody of the two children.

It was over these two children, Joseph and Robert, that the first split which came before the public occurred. Mrs. Keaton testified the comedy team's business caused her mental suffering and related that on April 4 Keaton took the children for an airplane trip to Mexico despite her protests.

CITRUS GROWERS SEEK
ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Aug. 8.—(P)—The Florida Citrus Growers' Clearing House Association is taking a ballot of its members on the collection of an advertising fund for citrus fruits, it was learned today.

The ballot was sent in the form of a questionnaire, containing two proposals. One asks the grower if he favors the proposed statewide advertising program for citrus sponsored by the clearing house and the Florida Citrus Exchange. The other asks if the grower agrees to an assessment of one cent a box on oranges and grapefruit, and five cents a box on tangerines, to help pay the expense for an advertising campaign.

USE OF 'DEAD' ISSUES
CHARGED BY HARDWICK

Political Grave Robbery Laid to Eugene Talmadge and John Holder.

ELBERTON, Ga., Aug. 8.—Addressing an audience that packed to overflowing the Elbert county courthouse, former Governor Thomas W. Hardwick candidate for governor, this afternoon charged two of his opponents, Mr. Talmadge and Mr. Holder, with "political grave-robbing" in the pending contest.

"Unable to find or devise any live issues against me," said Mr. Hardwick, "Mr. Talmadge and Mr. Holder have stooped to robbing the graves of three dead men, Woodrow Wilson, Thomas E. Watson and William J. Harris."

"They have gone into the grave of President Wilson and unearthed the differences I had with him, in an effort to inflame against me the animosity Mr. Wilson. The only difference I had with Mr. Wilson, when he was president and I was a senator of the United States, were differences of policy and principle. Some, if not all, of the positions I took in those days, now many years gone, have since been vindicated by the public opinion of Georgia."

"They have gone into the grave of Mr. Watson and unearthed the differences I had with him, in an effort to array against me the animosity 'the Sage of McIntosh.' It is true that Mr. Watson and myself had many differences, often very sharp; it is true that we fought each other in many contests, but always at the end we experienced 'that stern joy that warriors feel, in meeting foemen worthy of their steel. And finally Mr. Watson and myself, when brought together by mutual agreement upon political issues then predominating in our state and country, shook hands and buried whatever personal feeling might have heretofore existed between us, and together swept the state from the mountains to the sea and from river to river."

"They have gone into the grave of Senator Harris and unearthed the differences I had with him, which were purely political, in the hope that his friends might thereby be aroused against me in this contest."

"There is an animal in the jungle that has neither the courage to meet an enemy face to face nor the strength to provide itself with jungle subsistence. Consequently, it feeds upon the carcasses of animals braver and stronger than itself. That animal is the jackal, most despised and contemptible of all the creatures of the jungle."

"In these serious times, when the very foundations of government and order would seem to be threatened, it is low and cowardly for any candidate seeking your suffrage to descend to the level of political grave robbing."

Mr. Hardwick has spoken many times in Elbert county in previous campaigns, and has always had a strong following here in all conditions of political weather, whether favorable to him or adverse to him, but the audience that heard him this afternoon was conceded by old-timers to be the largest that ever turned out for a Hardwick speaking in Elbert.

The gubernatorial contest in Elbert, according to prevalent opinion as expressed at the meeting, both before and after Mr. Hardwick's speech, is between Hardwick and Talmadge.

CRISP MANAGERS
ATTACK RUSSELL
ON FRANK CHARGE

In a statement from Crisp campaign headquarters Monday, Governor Russell's reported reference to Crisp's use of the congressional frank to send out his campaign literature was attacked. The congressman's headquarters said that every piece of mail sent out by headquarters here carries the regular postage rate "and this can be proven to Governor Russell or anyone else."

The statement said Crisp was still congressman from the third Georgia district and his official business is being conducted from his office here and such business is being mailed under his frank in the same manner as if it was being conducted in Washington or at his home in Americus.

Crisp headquarters asked why Governor Russell does not tell the people why he is "mailing out campaign matter every day from his office in the state capitol."

HOLDER PROMISES
ANNUAL INVENTORY OF STATE HOLDINGS

An annual inventory of state property and the sale of all unserviceable equipment was a new feature of the economy plan which John N. Holder, former highway commission chairman, has advanced to get the state out of debt.

In a statement issued Monday through Graham Wright, his campaign manager, Holder said the state cannot go "from year to year without suffering shrinkage and loss by failing to know what property it owns and what disposition has been made of it."

Wright announced that Lon Burton, of Lakeland, editor of the Lanier County News, had accepted the chairmanship of the Holder forces in the eighth congressional district and would direct the activity of the campaign in that section.

VICTORY ASSURED
FOR MRS. PARKER,
DAUGHTER CLAIMS

A prediction that Mrs. Calvin W. Parker is "certain to win" in her campaign to be public service commissioner was made by her daughter, Mrs. C. B. Aitchison, of Waycross, in a statement announcing she would open temporary Parker headquarters in Atlanta.

"Our race," Mrs. Aitchison said, "has an individuality about it that has attracted statewide attention. Mother is the first woman in the history of our state that has asked the people of Georgia to elect her to a state office. Our first work was to convince the people of the state by written statements of those who have known her since childhood as to her good business judgment and qualification for the work of the commission. Since this was put across we have really had our sailing. The prediction now is that she will get the largest vote of any candidate in the present campaign who has opposition. We are certain to win."

BY WALTER T. BROWN.
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Leaders of co-operative marketing of farm products today outlined for Governor Roosevelt how crop selling has benefited farmers in the North. They think should be done to give the tiller of the soil greater economic security.

The leaders who called on the democratic commissioner, explained, urged the executive committee of the National Co-operative Council. The organizations represented by the 15 speakers included the American Farm Co-Operatives except those functioning in the grain and live stock industries. Henry Morgenthau Jr., conservation commissioner, explained.

At the head of the party was C. O. Mosher, of New Orleans, president of the council, and Robin Hood, secretary. The council's headquarters are in Washington.

Robert J. Bulkley, Ohio's democratic member of the United States senate, dropped at Albany for breakfast today to tell Frank, his old Harvard college mate, that the Roosevelt ticket would carry Ohio, distinguished the number of republican sons it had won.

Bulkley also told Roosevelt of plans for the governor's reception and speech in Columbus on August 20. That is the week before Roosevelt's first campaign road speech since he flew to Chicago to accept the nomination.

The farm group of visitors included in the party the National Farmers' Union, Benton Block, of Raleigh, N. C., president of the American Cotton Co-operative Association.

brought renewed hope and renewed confidence in the future."

Joseph C. O'Mahoney, national committee man from Wyoming, said: "The farmers are the backbone of the expedition manner in which it took place gave immediate and tremendous encouragement to all classes of our people."

Jed Adams, national committee man from Texas, said that state, which went republican four years ago, would be a force to be reckoned with.

George E. Starr, chairman of the Washington state committee, claimed his state would give President Hoover a majority of 100 votes if the election were held now.

A survey, said T. A. Walters, state chairman of Idaho, had convinced him that the farmers would vote in favor of Roosevelt in his section.

Today's conference, the first of five Farley will hold, was supposed to have been only for 30 far western states. But the number of southern and mid-western chairmen were also present.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the presidential nominee, appeared before the group and asked their co-operation in campaigning among the women of the nation.

At the president's home, later said, was raised in protest to the scheme he outlined of leaving to the state leaders the conduct of the campaign in their respective sections of the country.

No Finances Needed.

He said some state leaders told him they could "run their own shows" and need no financial help from national headquarters.

While the conference was in session the republican state committee launched an attack against Roosevelt's tariff stand, calling it "more ridiculous" than Mr. Garner's offense against the wool section.

Assistant Secretary of War F. Trubee Davison came the statement that "if it is the desire of the republican party of the state of New York to elect a republican candidate for governor, I will accept."

A Davison boom had been started on Long Island. There are nearly a dozen republican candidates for governor and for the republican gubernatorial nomination.

From socialist headquarters in New York, a candidate for president, will speak in 40 states between now and election day.

Gene Tunnay, former prizefighter, said he would take the stump for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket on Labor Day in Maine and will talk from there right up to election day. Meantime, he will go to Europe for a month's vacation.

MOSES REPORTS TWO STATES IN REPUBLICAN COLUMN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, after conferring with President Hoover, said he was 10 hours, told newspapermen today he had been "able to report cheerfully" about political conditions in New York and Massachusetts.

The president's lengthy parley with Moses occupied almost his entire morning after returning from his Rapid camp, where he spent the weekend.

Simultaneously, it was disclosed in an authoritative White House source that the president, in the person of the late president, has accepted an invitation to take part in the notification festivities at the executive mansion.

Meanwhile, Representative William E. Hull, republican, Illinois, conferred with Walter Newton, the president's notary public, to discuss the affairs. Hull said he had reported Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa safely in the Hoover column and thought: all the most-wed agricultural states could be.

COOLIDGE WILL ASSIST IN HOOVER CAMPAIGN

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Calvin Coolidge will take part in the campaign for re-election of President Hoover, Everett Sanders, chairman of the republican national committee, announced tonight.

Chairman Sanders declined to say definitely just how large a part the former president will play in the campaign. It indicated he will make several addresses.

At the same time Sanders denied earlier newspaper reports that he had urged Mr. Coolidge to attend the Hoover notification ceremonies during his recent visit with the ex-president at Plymouth Beach, Rhode Island.

COOLIDGE DECLINES INVITATION TO NOTIFICATION EVENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—White House officials today announced that Calvin Coolidge had declined an invitation to be present at the Hoover notification ceremonies next Thursday because he is troubled with hay fever.

One of Mr. Hoover's secretaries said the former president was susceptible to hay fever and that his difficulty was increased by dust and floating pollen when he traveled.

It was officially stated that the president and Mrs. Hoover had invited both Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge to be their guests at the notification ceremonies, but that a letter had been received from the former president "expressing sincere regret" because of the possibility of aggravating the hay fever.

Assault Injured.

HAYRE, France, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Jean Assolant, who flew from the United States to Spain in 1923, was slightly injured today when his plane crashed in landing at an airport near here.

CRISP URGES BOARD NOT TO SELL COTTON

Congressman Charles R. Crisp, author of a bill introduced at the beginning of the last session of congress to abolish the farm board, Monday wired James C. Stone, farm board chairman, asking that the board not dispose of its holdings during the current crop year.

"Cotton will begin moving in a few weeks," the congressman wired. "Price disastrous to farmers. If farm board places on market cotton it holds it will depress price. I earnestly appeal to the board to make public announcement that its cotton holdings will not be disposed of during this crop year."

In Atlanta to confer with members of his secretariat staff on matters pending before the departments in Washington, the congressman said: "I introduced a bill to abolish the farm board on the opening day of the recent session of congress. There was a provision in the bill that all cotton held by the board should be impounded and not sold for three years unless it could be sold for 12 cents a pound."

"I could not get the bill enacted into law and I am earnestly hoping now that the board will withhold its cotton from the market while the present crop is being sold."

UPSHAW CHALLENGES NORTH CAROLINA WET

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 8.—(P) William D. Uphaw, presidential nominee of the national prohibition party, today challenged Robert R. Reynolds, wet democratic senatorial nominee, to a public debate here on the prohibition question.

COTTON PRICES RISE ON CROP ESTIMATE

est since the leading New York banks formed their $100,000,000 bond investing pool early in June.

Advances in many issues, particularly rails and utilities, ranged from $10 to $40 per $1,000 bond. Price averages showed the sharpest gain in this market in two months.

A wide range of staples participated in the advance. Wheat futures at Chicago advanced 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents a bushel, getting up roughly 10 cents from the year's low. Butter and eggs reached new highs for the movement at Chicago, and in New York advances were registered by silk, copper, silver, raw sugar, coffee and cocoa.

Wheat Pool Rumored.

Leading Wall Street bankers discouraged rumors of the formation of pools to boost commodities but indicated that they would participate in the plan suggested by Eugene Meyer to form a large fund, possibly as much as $100,000,000, from which loans would be made to finance the movement of raw materials to fabricators.

Rumors persisted that a powerful speculative group was interesting itself in wheat, but a number of leading bankers asserted that their institutions were distinctly not interested in any speculative maneuvers, but purely in extending sound commercial credit.

The upsurge in cotton carried that staple up about 2 cents a pound from the early June lows, an advance of roughly 40 per cent. October delivery closed at 7.03 cents, December at 7.20, March at 7.41 cents a pound.

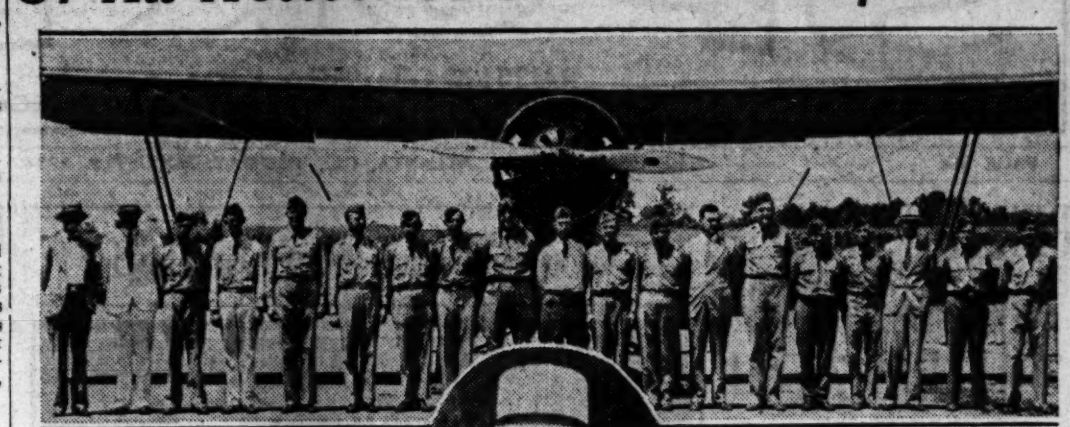

Closing prices were somewhat under the best, but up more than 4-5 of a cent. The department of agriculture estimate of the crop at 11,306,000 bales was 5,790,000 less than last year's crop, and 3,352,000 less than the average of the past five years.

The quoted value of this indicated crop has increased more than $100,000,000 since early June.

Biggest Day Since 1930.

Net gains in stocks, owing to the late setback, were substantially smaller than for Wednesday, Friday or

Famed Army Flyer Named To Take Charge Of All Activities of Fourth Corps Area

Saturday of last week, but the attainment of the most active trading since October of 1930 warmed the cockles of brokers' hearts.

Quickening of business last week had prompted commission houses to recall thousands of clerks who had been idle for months, but despite that the five-million-share day taxed the trading facilities.

Buying of American securities continued to pour in from many cities at home and abroad, with London still an active buyer. Public participation was said to have increased markedly during the past few days. Bears continued to fight the advance, hoping to catch a technical reaction and so recoup some of their severe losses suffered in the past month.

At today's best levels, price indices indicated that the appreciation since the June lows had extended close to 70 per cent, and it appeared that the total quoted value of all shares listed on the exchange may have appreciated almost $100,000,000.

BOARD'S "COTTON DUMPING"

IS ASSAILED BY GARDNER

SHELBY, N. C., Aug. 8.—(P) Governor O. Max Gardner asserted the federal farm board's "dumping" its holdings upon the present market was a "serious threat to advancing cotton prices," in a statement issued here today.

Urging that the board announce it will not sell any cotton until it reaches 11 cents a pound, the governor said, "If we are to have a semblance of prosperity, the cotton market must be relieved of the threatened and constant menace of the farm board cotton."

"If the farm board that controls directly and indirectly over 3,000,000 bales of American cotton would announce tomorrow that it had arranged to withhold this cotton from the market until the price had reached 11 cents a pound, the effect would be immediately spontaneous and a revival of business would sweep through the entire country," he said.

Such an announcement, based on the cotton report today, would automatically advance the price of cotton to 10 cents a pound in my judgment."

BANKERS PLEDGE SUPPORT TO MEYER'S COTTON PLAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(P) Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board, left for Washington today with the assurance of leading New York bankers that they would endeavor to support his effort to stimulate the orderly marketing of Fourth corps regular and air corps reserve officers met for a final conference of their annual tour of training Monday.

In the picture at the top are shown the following officers, in front of a Douglas observation plane: Lieutenant Colonel D. D. Moncrief, Atlanta, and R. H. McDonald, Newnan, medical reserve; First Lieutenant C. J. Weinmeister and F. P. Milestead, Atlanta, air reserve; Second Lieutenant S. R. Barker, Tupelo, Miss., and E. M. Moore, Jacksonville, air reserve; Captain J. D. Ficklen and F. F. Hughes, Atlanta, air reserve; Major General Edward L. King, commanding officer of area; First Lieutenant N. C. Holden, Wilson, N. C.; Captain M. G. Denton, Auburn, Ala.; First Lieutenant L. C. Campbell, Chattanooga; Captain Eugene Stevens, St. Joseph, La.; Second Lieutenant H. I. DuBose, Atlanta; Captain William H. Beatty, Birmingham; Major William L. Plummer, second command, Atlanta air reserve; Major Ira A. Rader, new area air corps officer; Second Lieutenant E. C. Davis, Atlanta; and Second Lieutenant John C. Covington, Atlanta, instructor, all of the air reserve. Bottom photo is close-up of Major Rader, who Monday was assigned as regular corps commander of the army air service. Staff photos by George Cornett.

Major Ira A. Rader, one of the ablest air officers in the United States army, Monday became commander of all aviation activities of the fourth corps area, with headquarters at Fort McPherson.

Major Rader recently was ordered to Atlanta to assume duties over the air corps of the southeastern division of the army. He reported for active duty Monday.

One of the nine surviving original aviators in the army, Major Rader has enjoyed one of the most picturesque careers of any flyer in the service. He first piloted one of the old Curtiss "Pushers" over Santiago, Cuba, in 1914, and was one of the few army aviators to accompany the punitive expedition against Francisco Villa in Mexico in 1914.

Graduate of the United States Military Academy, class of 1911, Major Rader served during the World War as lieutenant colonel in command of the United States army bombardment school at Clermont, France. He saw active service in the American bombing group at St. Mihiel and during the campaign of the Meuse-Argonne.

surplus cotton now held by the federal farm board.

The surplus stocks approximate 3,300,000 bales of which 1,300,000 are held by the federal farm board, by the co-operative agencies. Their dollar value at present market prices is substantially in excess of $100,000,000.

A final plan has yet been drafted, but Meyer indicated that he would return to New York in a week or so, at which time it is hoped to work out a method whereby banks would finance the mills which, in turn, would contract for substantial amounts of the surplus cotton now held by the federal farm board agencies.

While rumors still persisted that Meyer's trip was in conjunction with a scheme to create a series of commodity pools, involving wheat, wool, copper and cotton, it was stated in authoritative quarters that no such plan had been broached.

Meyer's proposal was said to involve a program which would encourage banks to finance manufacturers and fabricators so that they could buy large stocks of commodities and convert them into finished goods.

SECURITIES IN LONDON CONTINUE TO ADVANCE

LONDON, Aug. 8.—(P) Under the influence of the soaring tendency in Wall Street, the London stock market continued its sympathetic buoyancy today with American securities leading the way at the expense of ill-fated British issues.

Cautious dealers awaited a break in American prices, for London comment generally included a warning that the present level of Wall Street prices was likely to last.

"The gains so far registered are out of all proportion to any discernible basis," the Manchester Guardian said editorially, "and a sharp reaction in a few weeks would not be surprising."

Meanwhile, the pound sterling continued to seek its level and dollars cost British pounds was likely to speculate in Wall Street nearly 3 per cent more than they did two weeks ago.

WALKER CHARGES SEABURY UNFAIR

was in the nature of a surrebuttal to Seabury's reply to the mayor's original denial of allegations looking toward his removal from office.

Seabury, who submitted to the governor a set of his own "conclusions" based on the Hofstadter committee testimony, was accused by Walker of resorting to "deliberate distortions of his own written statements, and willful misrepresentation of the evidence."

Seabury Assailed.

Walker took Seabury sharply to task for implying the mayor was seeking to take refuge behind the statute of limitations when he told the governor that two-thirds of Seabury's conclusions were barred by virtue of being based on acts that allegedly occurred during Walker's first term in office.

Seabury, in his last communication, remarked this was a ploy which one is not obliged to make if he is unwilling to meet issues on their merits."

Walker, replying, said in his surrebuttal:

"As your excellency well knows, and as anybody who took the trouble to read my answer well knows, I answered each of the 15 'conclusions' or charges submitted by Mr. Seabury, on the merits. As you also know, I expressly stated in my answer: 'I shall meet every one of these conclusions on the facts. The purpose which animated the filing of all of them is defeated by a recital of the truth. I do this in order that there may be no misapprehension as to whether the facts would justify official consideration by you, even though well settled authority does bar two-thirds of them.'"

"A Sorry Sight."

Seabury's assertion that it was a sorry sight indeed to see a person occupying high public office, whose honor is impugned, taking the position that the people must suffer him to continue in his public office because he was fortunate enough not to be caught in time, provoked this statement from Walker:

"I have no word at my command that could adequately characterize such blatant hypocrisy, in the face of my answer."

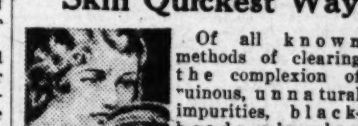

"I met every 'conclusion' on the merits, and more than two-thirds of my answer was devoted to a discussion of them 'on the merits.' My primary purpose in submitting to you a long and conclusive list of authorities in this and other states was to make it plain that certain of the conclusions, or charges submitted by Mr. Seabury were presented either in inexcusable ignorance of the law or in utter disregard of it. His attempts to evade and get around these authorities is a sorry sight, indeed."

Walker said in New York he would leave for Albany probably tomorrow afternoon. In discussing the possibility he might seek the right to cross-examine witnesses he declined to commit himself definitely.

"If somebody brought a charge against you," the mayor parried a question, "wouldn't you expect the right to hear that charge, and to cross-examine the man that made it?"

He would not disclose whether he intended taking other lawyers with him to Albany, but said he "would tell all that tomorrow."

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. A. Leobardt, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money-back guarantee.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Jacobs Drug Stores and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID tablets with guarantee of money refunded if they do not and your Pile misery.—(adv.)

Babe Didrikson Once Punched Babe Stribling Hard One in Ring Exhibition.

Somewhere in the back of my noggin was a local story about Babe Didrikson, the gal who has California dizzy and who took a raw decision from the funny A. A. U. and Olympic officials in the high jump Sunday.

And then I remembered it. Babe Didrikson is the young lady who busted Herbert (Babe) Stribling right on the mouth in a boxing contest they staged down in Texas a couple of years ago.

Herbert had strayed off the range and was out in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas taking flying lessons and fighting. And one day they said that there was a honey of a girl athlete out there who could box, play basketball and baseball.

So they arranged a boxing match. And I'll say this for Babe Stribling. He will not break your ribs or crack your jaw but he is very, very hard to hit.

And yet the Babe hung a right hand full of leather and knuckles right on his mouth. Hard, too. Herb Stribling stuck out his head, a trick of his, intending to yank it back. He fools a lot of good fighters that way. But Babe Didrikson patted him one. I think it cut his lip.

She must be quite a girl. She's played 11 rounds of golf and shoots the tough course in 80 and 81. Which must make a lot of the masculine players feel a bit silly. Eleven lessons and an 81. Oh, well!

They say she is strong enough, despite the fact she weighs but 126 pounds, to floor a man with a slap in the back and she will match grips with any of the firm handshakers.

She runs, hurdles, flings the discus, broad jumps, high jumps, throws the javelin, throws the baseball, shoots golf in the low 80's, wrestles, stars at basketball and hockey and already owns two Olympic and world records.

What a girl! Mildred Babe Didrikson.

THE PUNCH DRUNK TEST.

Are you punch drunk? Do you mumble to yourself and jerk as you walk along? Are you back on your heels? Do you suffer from fighter's dance?

Here's the old test. One doesn't have to be in there taking them on the whiskers to become punch drunk. The psychiatrists say the old nerves can become punch drunk from shocks (and probably stocks also), strain and worry.

The Pennsylvania boxing commission physician has recently created a test. Take it in the privacy of your office. (As I did.)

The test is: Place your feet close together. Place hands close to sides. Close eyes.

Remain ABSOLUTELY STILL for two minutes.

If you can't remain still the Pennsylvania commission (not I) says you are punch drunk or getting that way very rapidly indeed. (I am sure it was the wind blowing in the window which had me swaying.)

WHY, ED, HOW COULD YOU?

Ed Hamm, the Georgia Tech track coach and holder of the Olympic record in the broad jump, has hidden it from us for a long time.

His nickname, back home where the folks know him, is "Duck." Edward (Duck) Hamm, well, well!

The story is out in the plans for Arkansas' reception for Bill Carr, the young man who humbled the shores of California by beating Ben Eastman in the 400 meters.

Carr and Hamm were great friends. Hamm preceded Carr a bit and the latter tried, for some time, to be a broad jumper.

If the boys keep on they will bring the state of Arkansas out of the humor books. You know, no doubt, the old story about the traveling men who were in the smoker (don't worry, I'm not going to tell the one you know) boasting about their states.

They all had their says and then the tall, silent man in the corner, who had said nothing, stood up and said, as he pulled a six-shooter, "I'm from Arkansas and I'll shoot the first man who laughs."

With Duck Hamm and Bill Carr as their leading citizens the good people of Arkansas can laugh at the rest of us.

HELP! HELP! HELP!

When Miss Louisa Robert made the Olympic swimming team as Atlanta's representative two or three of us enthusiastically declared her to be the first native Atlantan to make the team.

And then the fun began. Bill Healey had made the 1924 team but had been unable to compete. But he was on the team. And Dave Young had made the 1928 swimming team.

That had the boys groggy. But the crowning blow, leaving me flat, came yesterday when Noon Hudson, now selling autos here, came into say he was on the 1908 and 1912 Olympic bike teams.

Have you an Olympic team member in YOUR home?

WHAT THEY WANT.

Henry Weber, local wrestling match-maker, was encountered yesterday afternoon in front of his hotel. A query regarding his matches at the baseball park tonight revealed that the advance sale for the Jones-O'Shocker match is the best first day advance he ever had.

"How do you do it?" a friend asked. "I try to give them what they want," he said, which is the secret of promotion in a few words.

THE DISTANCE MEN.

It's peculiar, to say the least, that most of the distance runners are skinny, frail fellows who look as if a gust of wind would blow them away.

Juan Zabala, the Argentine runner who won the marathon Sunday, setting a new record, is one of that type. Paavo Nurmi, victim of one of those amateur rulings which look a bit silly, is another. Most of the lot were that same type.

Ray Miller, the Georgia Tech boy who ran the marathon distance in less than three hours, was a frail looking lad. It is a fact that many boys, unable to compete in baseball, football and the more strenuous sports, take up track work. Miller was almost a cripple when he started. Now he can run 26 miles and attend a dance a few hours later.

THE LOOKOUTS SLIPPING?

Stories about the league to the effect that the Chattanooga Lookouts were slipping because of a cracking team morale, didn't stand up in Monday's game with Memphis.

The four-game series is likely to have a definite bearing on the pennant race. The Chicks could, by taking the three remaining games, pretty well throttle the Lookout threat.

SUNDAY BASEBALL.

Birmingham, that deserted village, turned out more than 13,000 people for two Sunday games. Poor old Atlanta, suffering already, will have to take very much the worst of it in next season's schedule. Every other city has Sunday ball.

PHILLES SHORP DOUBLE-HEADER TO CARDS, 7-6, 6-4

Pennant Hopes of Phils Given Jolt as They Lose Twice.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The Phillies' pennant hopes were given another jolt today when they dropped two games to the St. Louis Cardinals for their fourth successive defeat. The world champions won the opener 7 to 6 and then took the nightcap 6 to 4 in eleven innings.

Two three-run rallies, one in the eighth and the other in the ninth, wiped out a 6-0-1 lead established by the Phillies in the seventh to give the Cards the first game. Jimmy Collins' 18th home run with Jim Bottomley on base in the eleventh provided the winning margin in the second encounter.

In the first game Sylvester Johnson sailed along fine for six innings, holding the Phillies to one hit. The Philadelphia sluggers got busy in the seventh and with Don Hurst parking his 20th home run in the bleachers and George Davis also hitting one, the Phillies scored all of their runs. Phil Collins, Jumbo Elliott and Berley were unable, however, to hold the advantage.

Elliott took the mound again in the nightcap but failed to hold a four-run lead and was relieved by Collins. Dixie Dean replaced Deringer in the box for the Cards in the sixth and allowed the Phillies only two hits in the last six innings, striking out seven men.

Ten Records Are Given Okay

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Ten world record performances which marked the Olympic track and field championships today were stamped with official approval and put on the books by the International Amateur Athletic Federation. Eight records were credited to Americans, one each to Japan and Great Britain.

Two other world records, made last year by Polish star, Stanislaw Holubski, were stamped with official approval, increasing to 53 the total number of new marks accepted by the federation here, covering the last two years of extraordinary athletic accomplishments.

The Olympic performances put into the world record list:

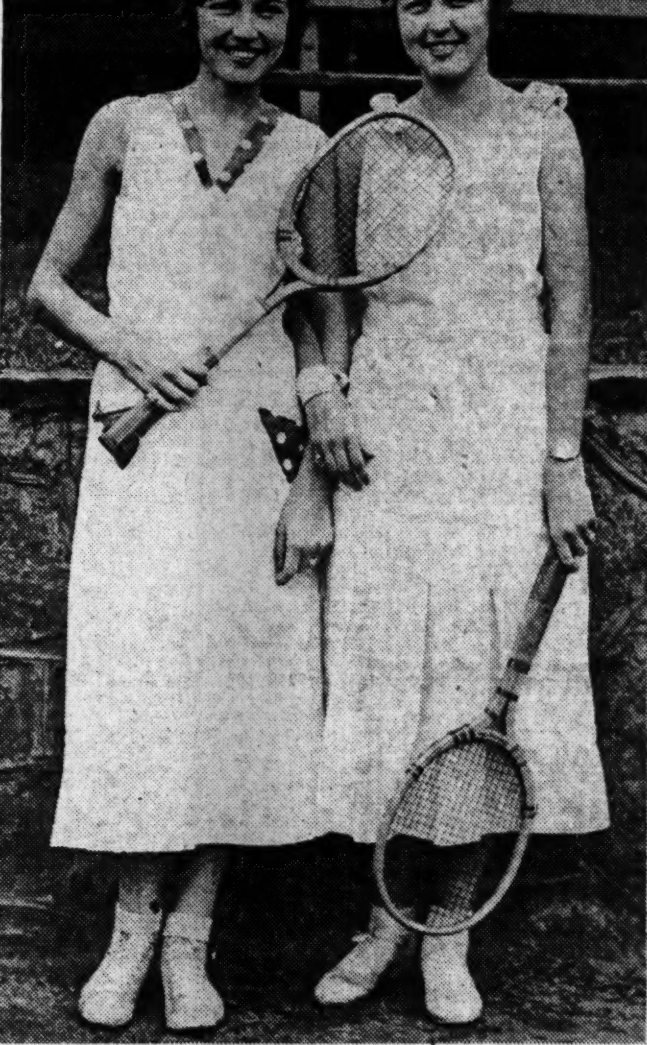

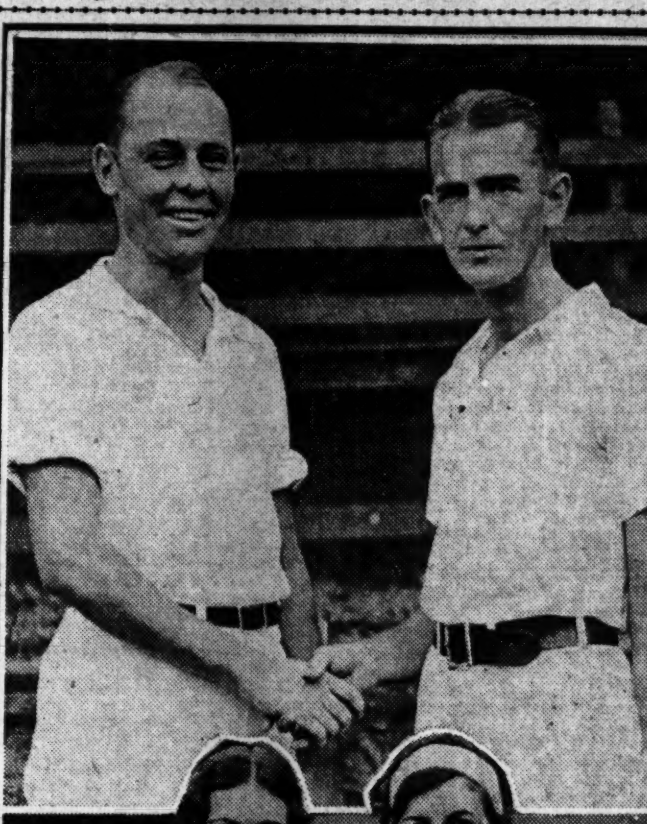

100 Meters, 16.2 seconds, by Eddie Tolan, U. S. A. (Equals previous mark).
400 Meters, 46.2 seconds, by William Carr, U. S. A.
800 Meters, 1:49.8, by Thomas Hampson, Great Britain.
1,600-Meter Relay, 40 seconds, by U. S. A. team.
1,600-Meter Relay, 3:08.3, by U. S. A. team.
500-Meter Hurdles, 14.4 seconds, by George Salting, U. S. A. (Equals).

400-Meter Hurdles, 32 seconds, by Glenn Hardin, U. S. A. (Equals).
Hop, Step and Jump, 51 feet 7 inches, by Chudai Sanjio, Japan.
Pole Vault, 14 feet 7-8 inches, by William Miller, U. S. A.
Decathlon, 5,068.5 points, by James Baugh, U. S. A.
Four Miles, 19:02.6, by James Kucinski, U. S. A.

COURSE WAS EASY, Paavo Nurmi Says

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Paavo Nurmi, on the sidelines while the Olympic marathon he had hoped to win was being run and won by Juan Carlos Zabala, was quoted afterward as saying the course was "easy" and that he believed he could cover it in 2 hours 20 minutes. Reports that Paavo would run a series of match races with Zabala were unconfirmed.

Winners and Runners-Up

Moore Is Not Worrying Now About Getting Off

Andrew G. (Scrappy) Moore, outfielder of the Birmingham Barons and more important to the folks around here as the Georgia quarterback who once drop-kicked a field goal that beat Vanderbilt, has one consolation about the 1932 baseball season. He won't have to be bothered with making special requests of the management about getting off to coach his football team at the University of Chattanooga.

This time last year the Barons were 17 games ahead of the other teams in the Southern league. They suffered a slight slump later on and their lead dwindled to 15 games. At that they had the pennant in the bag long before the middle of August.

The Barons of "then and now" represent a striking contrast. They are 24 games out of first place at this date. Last year this time they were thinking of the Dixie series. Now they are thinking most about their chances of finishing in the first division.

"I don't think I'll have any trouble getting off early to start football practice this year," said Andy (Scrappy) Moore. The statement was echoed by Joe Perrost, the big blonde slugger of the Barons outfield. He and Moore were trying out some new Georgia manufactured bats, swinging them before the mirror. They were presents from Bill White, Moore's old coach and now the road man for the bat factory at Athens. These Athens bats, by the way, are pretty good, too, and growing in popularity among ball players.

Times have been pretty tough for the Birmingham ball players this season. None of them have had a good year.

PERROST HURT.
"Joe Perrost would have led the league in hitting if they hadn't started monkeying with the ball," avows Andy (Scrappy) Moore. The "Scrappy" hasn't created any great havoc with the stick but has played his usual game as the greatest ball hawk in this man's league.

Right now Moore's mind is on football in a big way. Having been in Birmingham off and on all summer, he has heard a lot of gossip about the University of Alabama football team. He thinks the conference title this year will be decided on October 15 when the Tide plays Tennessee. The Vols should be about the kingpin of the bunch, Moore thinks, with Alabama and Tu-laine a close second. If "Bama" beats Tennessee, however, she'll win the title, he believes. Georgia, "Scrappy" old team, will surprise a lot of folks, he says. The Bulldogs have a better chance of beating Tulane than any conference team since Tennessee and Alabama do not play the Green Wave.

NEW PLAYERS.
"Georgia won't have a great team but I believe she'll trot out some new players that were developed in the spring," he concluded. Switching back to baseball, Moore said things were in a bad way in Birmingham. Sunday baseball is pepping things up a bit but that the Barons will be lucky to get under the wire with 75,000 admissions. He looks for some hard times around the league next spring, what with so many good ball players running around loose. But Moore needn't worry. He can still command a job in any Class A league on his defensive play alone, and besides he has a football championship at Chattanooga last fall.

WILL WIN.
"I'll win as many games as any pitcher in the league next year if he gets a good start and good support," Perrost said. They'll all admire Bob and says he is happier pitching for Atlanta since his folks live in Marietta. Hasty is the only man of the Barons' big four of pitchers last year who is on a winning streak. Ray Caldwell seems to be through, Jimmy Walkup is having a lot of trouble and so is Clay Touchstone.

"Atlanta ought to get Sunday ball next year," I believe she can do it if

INDIANS BEATEN AFTER WINNING SIX STRAIGHT

Ragged Fielding Aids Senators in Beating Tribe, 7 to 6.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Slipshod work afield cost the Indians their first defeat in their last seven starts today, Washington scoring a 7-to-6 victory on only five hits.

The defeat sent Cleveland back to third place, a half game behind the idle Philadelphia Athletics. Monte Weaver, who quit teaching mathematics to seek baseball fame, got credit for his 18th victory of the season against five defeats, although the Tribe baited him out of the box in an eight-inning rally that fell just one run short of tying the score.

Crowder, who relieved him, retired Vosmik in the eighth and Clint Brown in the ninth when a hit by either would have tied the score.

The Senators scored five times in the second on three hits, two walks and errors by Averill and Burnett. The latter muffed Berg's grounder when he had a chance for an easy double play that would have retired the side scoreless.

During the excitement Sam Rice executed one of the rarities of modern baseball, a clean steal of home. Burnett's second fumble paved the way for two more Washington runs in the fourth. The Indians tried valiantly thereafter, but could not overcome the seven-run lead.

Burnett, despite his two bobbles in the field, was the big fire in the Cleveland attack, getting two doubles and two singles for a perfect day at bat.

Riot Follows Water Polo Game

OLYMPIC SWIMMING STADIUM, LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—(AP)—A riot broke out at the Olympic pluge here late today when the Brazilian water polo team, protesting the decisions rendered by the referee of the game between the South American team and Germany, attacked him in a body as the game ended.

Police and pool attendants rushed to the rescue of Komjadi as fists flew between the German and Brazilian countrymen rushed past the guards to the pool edge.

The referee was won by Germany 7 to 3 after repeated fouls had been called on the Brazilians and as many protests had been made by the South Americans.

The referee's decisions during the game had been greeted by frequent boos from the 9,000 persons in the stands, with most of the spectators feeling that the Brazilians had been discriminated against. Immediately thereafter the Germans scored, permitting the player to return to the fray.

As he swam back into the pool he pointed to the referee and tapped his head with his finger in significant fashion. The contest had been rough from start to finish. The Brazilians trailed four to one at half time, not counting on Brazilian goal which was not allowed over extended protesting.

Parker Advances In Culver Tourney

CULVER, Ind., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Parker, 16-year-old, 16-year-old tournament favorite from Milwaukee, and Jack Lynch, of Taft, Cal., the defending titleholder, seeded players in the national junior and boys' tennis championships, won easy victories today.

Parker whipped through Robert Gruber, of Culver, and Justin Harris, of Wyomissing, Pa., without the loss of a game, dropping only 22 points. Lynch advanced to the third round through a bye and a 6-0, 6-1 victory over Paul Simon, of Cincinnati, and Gene Mako, Los Angeles, moved up by a 6-0, 6-0 triumph over Ralph Bold, Pittsburgh.

Marco Hecht, of New York, another favorite, eliminated Robert Upton, of St. Joseph, Mich., 6-1, 6-0.

NOT SCHEDULED.
OLYMPIC STADIUM, Aug. 8.—There was one dive which was not scheduled on the program today. An unidentified spectator, reported to have made a wager of $100 that he would dive into the pluge, suddenly appeared on the brink of the pool as the second optional ended and jumped head first into the water, street clothes and all.

He goes about it as Birmingham did," Moore stated. He believes if proper pressure is brought on the matter it will go through.

Miss Madison Wins, Breaks Old Record

American Swimmer Shatters 100-Meter Aquatic Mark; U. S. Divers Win Many Honors on First Day of Events.

By Paul Zimmerman, Associated Press Staff Writer.

OLYMPIC SWIMMING STADIUM, LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Helene Madison, Seattle's queen of the waterways, won the first women's title of the tenth Olympiad aquatic championship today, the 100-meter free-style final, in Olympic and world record-breaking time.

The 20-year-old girl from the northwest outdistanced a cosmopolitan field of crack swimmers by churning through the distance in 1 minute 6.8 seconds.

It was a large day for the United States, with three Yankee acrobats sweeping the 3-meter springboard diving finals after three hours of graceful demonstration this morning.

With the international championships only three days old, every Olympic record at stake has been washed from the books.

The last of these to go was Alberto Zorilla's 400-meter free-style mark of 5:01.6 set in 1928, when Takashi Yokoyama, Japan's leading threat, won the first heat of the preliminaries in 4 minutes 53.2 seconds.

Six thousand persons were on hand for the diving championships, while an afternoon crowd of 9,000 appeared to see the fourth Olympic record in as many events drop to the bottom of the last 50-meter pluge.

Mickey Riley Galitzen won the diving championship, by amassing 161.38 points with Harold Smith second, totaling 158.54 points and Richard Denger, of Michigan University, third to the two Los Angeles stars with 151.82 total to give the first three places for the United States.

Alfred Phillips, of Canada, was fourth, followed by Lester Esser, Germany and Kazuo Kobayashi, of Japan.

DIVING HONORS.
The first way by which places thrust the United States into the team point lead with 27, against 18 for Japan, three for Canada and two for Germany.

One second behind Miss Madison in the 100-meter free-style final was Williamjinnie Den Ouden, fourteen-year-old Dutch girl who yesterday broke the world record and quickened the Olympic mark for the fourth consecutive time during the meet.

Helene took the lead after the first 25 meters and increased her advantage with every stroke on the home stretch. This was Mrs. Eleanor Geratti's saying, of San Francisco, Josephine McKim, of Los Angeles, came in fourth.

These placings gave the United States women's team 17 points, with five for Holland, three for Australia and one for South Africa.

Yokoyama flashed the best form in the 400-meter heats, but he was forced all the way by James Gilhula, United States, who was credited with a time of 4:53.3, only one-tenth of a second slower than the winner.

Jean Tarris, of France, an applicant for the world's record at 4 minutes 47 seconds, took things easy in his heat, making the second best time of the day, 4:53.3, but he was not pushed as was Yokoyama.

The other two outstanding competitors, Andrew Channon, Australia, and Clarence Crabbe, United States, competitors in the 1928 games, won their heats in the identical time of 4:53.8, but each swimming the length of the pluge ahead of his opponent at the finish.

Alberto Zorilla, the defending champion from Argentina, failed to appear for his heat.

Harry Barthels, United States, third entry, also was missing. He was in a hospital with pneumonia.

America Leads In Water Events.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—(UP)—The United States took the lead in the men's and women's swimming events of the Olympic games today, according to unofficial tabulations made by the United Press.

Strength in men's springboard diving and the women's 100-meter free style swim gave America its lead in scoring. The men's point score follows:

United States, 27; Japan, 18; Canada, 3; Germany, 2.
The women's point score follows:
United States, 17; Holland, 5; Australia, 2; South Africa, 1.

Two Dixie Stars Easily Win Matches; Wood Withdraws.

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Ranking male tennis players swung into action in the eastern grass courts championship today and promptly lost one of their leading contenders, Keith Gledhill, of Santa Barbara.

Gledhill, apparently over-tired and indifferent as to whether he won or lost, was eliminated by the steady New York player, Harold MacGuffin, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2.

All other favorites advanced to the second round although many of them were forced to extra sets. Berkeley Bell, Clayton Lee Burwell, of Charlotte, N. C.; Martin Buxby, of Florida; Gregory Mangin, of Newark, and Fritz Mercier, of Bethlehem, Pa., all traveled three sets in their first-round matches.

Buxby eliminated the young Chattanooga star, Robert Bryan, 6-4, 5-7, 8-6, in the hardest-fought match of the day. Bell defeated Hal Surface, of Kansas City, 5-6, 6-4, 6-1, and Burwell won from Ray Palmer, of Albia, N. Y., 6-3, 3-6, 8-6.

Two southern aces, Cliff Sutter, of New Orleans, and Bryan Grant Jr., of Atlanta, advanced in straight sets. Sutter defeated Albert Law, New York, 6-4, 6-3, and Grant won from Frank Bowden, New York, 6-3, 7-5. Karl Kamrath, of Austin, Texas, forced Mangin to call upon all his strokes to win 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, and Mercier had trouble with the Seaside (N. Y.) veteran, H. H. Bassford, but won, 7-5, 1-6, 6-3.

Other winners included J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J.; Wilbur Owen, Kansas City; Eddie Jacobs, Baltimore, and Lester Stofen, Elbert Lewis and Keith Wener, of Los Angeles.

Sidney B. Wood, winner at Seabright and Southampton, withdrew from the tournament today.

In the women's division, Joan Ridley, of England, gained the preliminary round by defeating Mrs. A. J. Lammie, of Rye, N. Y., 6-2, 6-0.

Other results: Albert Rollins, Okmulgee, Okla., defeated John Shostrom, Chicago, 6-4, 6-7, 6-4; Gilbert Hunt, Washington, D. C., defeated Richard Wegler, Milwaukee, 6-2, 6-3.

Bernard Friedman, Philadelphia, defeated Albert Usher, Okmulgee, Okla., 6-0, 6-1; Harry Harris, Raleigh, N. Georgia Anglers Need Licenses

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Peter S. Twitty, state game and fish commissioner, after an inspection of the fishing situation in tidewater regions, today issued an order that all Georgia fishermen must secure a license before August 15.

It was reported to the commissioner that many fishermen are engaging in the business without licenses.

J. F. Arnow, commissioner of the tidewater department of the game and fish department, has been ill for the past several weeks in a Jacksonville (Fla.) hospital.

PORTLAND, Maine, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, National league leaders, took a breather today, walking away with an exhibition game with the Portland Pine Trees, 10 to 0.

make at least five drives between 240 and 280 yards, from 10 to 15 yards more than I ever saw any girl hit a golf ball on any unbanked course where there was no great run on the ball over the watered fairways.

She is the longest hitter women's golf has ever seen—for she has a free, lashing style backed up with championship form and terrific power in strong hands, strong wrists and forearms of steel. And you might remember that this was the eleventh golf game of her career.

She has as fine a swing as either Helen Hicks or Glenna Collette has. And it came naturally to her after a few rounds, just as everything else in sport seems to come her way in the line of sudden acquirement of form and style.

Various Sports.

In the course of this round, I finally got her to sum up the various sports she has played, and you can sample all you want that she plays most of them well. You won't believe this, but don't bet a nickel that it isn't true. This is the list.

Track and Field—Running, jumping, hurdling, shot-putting, discus, javelin. She either holds or has tied the world's record in them all.

Baseball, tennis, golf, hockey, boxing, wrestling, riding, polo, billiards, pool, skating, football, fencing, basketball, swimming, diving, shooting. And this is only a partial list.

The Babe is no boaster and no bragger. She tells you simply what she can do, and then she does it.

"What about weight-lifting?" someone asked.

"I got my first lifting over that," she said, "by lifting the 50-pound weight with one hand and then hoisting it straight up over my head."

Being stumped, we finally turned to sewing, and found that the Babe not only frequently made her own dresses, but had won first prize for a dress she had made at the Texas state fair. She can also cook when they happen to need her around the kitchen.

"I've played every game I ever heard about," she said, "except one. That looked to be a big story. What could it be?"

"Dolls," said the Babe. "I've never played dolls. When I was a little girl I'd rather play with a doll's hammer or hatchet than fool with dolls. When he missed a hatchet, he always knew whom to blame."

Some Feet.

How good is she in these various games, well, she recently won a track meet by herself against three teams that had eighteen girls entered on each team, and where there were 252 competitors. She had broken open every track and field record. She has thrown a baseball over 320 yards.

They tell me she has a tennis serve every bit as fast as Helen Wills can show. I believe it. Jess Harper, director of athletics at Notre Dame, told me she was the best woman basketball player he ever saw.

"She is over the floor like a streak of light," Jess remarked. "And a basket hawk."

She made all-American in her second year. And at the age of 19 she has only been competing her second year and the most remarkable feature is that she "gets good" at any game she tries in her second or third week of play—games that most have failed to master after many years of work and thought.

Many of these things were easy to doubt until I saw her borrow Olin Dutra's clubs and hit her first drive at the Brenwood course.

Playing in a five-ball match with the writer, Westbrook Pegler, Paul Gallico and Braven Dyer, she stepped up after the terrific strain of the last week and slashed away from a brick wall, way with almost no sign of effort.

Knowing this was the eleventh round of her life, it was used to know that any one could swing a golf club that well. It might just as well have been Helen Hicks or Glenna Collette after weeks of play and practice. She had an 81 on her tenth round of play. Xc duffers of the world, take that home and then take poison or turn on the gas.

On the 310-yard seventh, she hit a mid-iron shot through a cross wind just six feet from the pin. On the ninth against a strong headwind she was at least 240 yards up the middle with almost no roll.

"Even Olin Dutra would have liked that one," my astonished caddy remarked.

On the last nine she hit almost every drive over 240 yards, and at least two of these were close to 260. Her iron play was good but she was not used to the fast, sloping greens.

The Babe broke another record. She never mentioned the fact that she was playing with strange clubs—that she hadn't played in many weeks—that her shoes had no cleats—that she had been in heavy track and field competition for several months. She had no alibi for anything.

"How do you do it?" I asked.

"I can't help it," she said simply. "Somehow it just seems to come easy. I guess the answer is that I'm crazy about any kind of game, especially a competition. And I like galleries and I get a great kick out of coming from behind."

"I guess another reason is that I never worry about anything, anywhere or at any time. What can you ever help by worrying about it—and I can find time to enter the contest. I am doing. Just like to step up and do it."

"What's the use of taking a lot of time about thinking what you can do and then not doing it?—if I ought to do it," I said.

Amazing Fact.

Here's another amazing fact. With all her smashing schedule of competition and play she has never had a sore muscle—a Charley horse—a bad arm—a bad knee—any physical ailment.

"I guess that's because I don't tie myself into knots," she said. "I like to take the simplest, easiest way." (Which happens to mean form.)

Her only coach has been Colonel Melvin Jackson McComb, Dallas, Texas, who saw at first glance the great possibilities that this Dallas marvel carried in her strong, wiry system. But no one could believe that one human frame could carry such a superlative store of co-ordination and muscular rhythm which the Babe carries into action. I am sure she could do pretty well at almost any game played with less than a week's practice.

You wouldn't believe half of this until you saw her in some sport—and then you'd know how true it is. She is hoping she can find time to enter the women's golf championship at Salem—and if she does and has any time for practice she will be something to hear of.

It can be said without any extension of raw truth that the world of sport has never known an athlete even close to her class for all-around performance—for intuitive knack—for the quickness with which she grasps the essential fundamentals—and then applies them under pressure.

She is on the top of Mt. Everest in this respect—an unbelievable phenomenon who is out in a class by herself. She has the indefinable quality of genius that can't be explained.

And with all that she is as thoroughly likeable as any one you'll meet in a long journey—a rare person in a world where rare persons don't happen to grow on every bush.

The tall, powerful girl from Seattle was much too fast for Willy Den Ouden, the Holland mermaid, who finished second five feet in the rear. Just a trifle in front of Mrs. Eleanor Gerrati Saville and Josephine McKim, who finished third and fourth.

Miss Madison is close to 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighing over 100 pounds. She starts like a flash and she takes a turn like a rubber ball bounding away from a brick wall. And she can also swim. Plenty plus. (Copyright, 1932, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

Pulcherimus Wins
Prix Municipalite

DEAUVILLE, France, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Simon Guthmann's Pulcherimus won the classic Prix Municipalite at 2,000 meters today. The race carried with it a purse of 50,000 francs (about $2,000).

CRACKERS LOSE ANOTHER, 10-8

By Jimmy Jones.

Bunny Hearn evidently had a good ball game up his sleeve last night but he never got it out. Any chance that he had of beating the Barons was wafted away on the nocturnal air through his fellow employees' wild casting of the spheroid and a flurry of base hits from the bats of the rejuvenated men of Milan finally clubbed him down by a score of 10 to 8.

Neither team accomplished anything brilliant last night. In fact, the Crackers were only about a furlong ahead of the Barons in committing travesties upon the national pastime, but Atlanta's fielders were that much worse and their errors of actual commission, and not to mention those of omission, let in four runs.

THEY TOOK IT.

Both Red Barron and Clyde Milan, being short-handed on pitchers, had to leave the Barons' southpaw, Hearn, and Walkup, in there to take it, and take it they did.

The Crackers were off as chipper as you please to grab a two-run lead in the second inning and that looked very good indeed with little Hearn blowing the ball by the Barons and whiffing four men in the first four innings. Cummings and McKee, the two sophomores of the outfield, singled in succession, Chapman walked and Mule Shirley, up from a sick bed, brought both boys home with a single to left.

IT DIDN'T.

That ought to hold 'em awhile, the Crackers probably were saying to themselves and hoping of getting that half game of Sunday back were aroused.

Then in the fourth inning Joe Prentiss, the old Bama halfback, ran into the thinly populated republican gallery to put his team in the swim. The Barons reached a new high in the fifth when three runs came in on three hits. Bill Eisenman's wild toss to third of "Red" Barnes, the old Bama halfback, at third base, which Umpire Bulldog Williams adjudged to be interference.

THREE MORE.

Three more came in the sixth, two donated on Chapman's wild heave to field Red Bobby Goff's failure to field Red Barnes' high hopper with a double play on deck. Base hits and homers did the rest.

The Crackers filled the bases in the ninth and got two runs but they lacked two of being enough.

There will be a double-header today to make up for a postponed looker, first game starting at 2 p. m. Lefty Carriethers and Hugh Caser, a pair of budding youngsters, will do the churning for the Crackers, while Milan will employ Clay Touchstone in the first. The second hurler is in doubt. The paid attendance last night was 765.

PAT O'SHOCKER, JONES BATTLE AT BALL PARK

Clinkstock Matched With Bronowitz in Semi-Final Tonight.

Patrick Timothy O'Shocker, the mat's most genial villain and as Irish as the name would indicate, pays a welcome return visit to Atlanta tonight when he is scheduled to battle John Paul Jones, the Texas Twister, in the feature two-hour wrestling match of Henry Weber's all-star wrestling card at Ponce de Leon ball park.

In response to popular demand, Weber is also using Jim Clinkstock, 220-pound Cherokee star, O'SHOCKER again. The Indian will seek to ring up his third straight victory here, on this occasion opposing Frank Bronowitz, 220-pound Pole, in the one-hour semi-final. Neither Steinborn nor Lampkin proved able to seriously extend Clinkstock, but a different story is expected tonight. This bout, as well as the main event, will be for best two falls in three.

A brief preliminary between two local middleweights will open the program which gets under way promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

O'Shocker is returning to Atlanta for a purpose—a thoroughly sinister purpose, at least in so far as Jones is concerned. The last time Pat was here he crumpled this same Texan at the city auditorium. It was a desperately rough match from the start, and after each man had won a fall, reached a dramatic conclusion.

O'Shocker turned loose a right swing that knocked Paul cold. For this the redhead was promptly disqualified.

Jones, the hook scissors artist who is probably Atlanta's favorite among all the grapplers who have shown here, showed no reluctance to grant O'Shocker another bout. If Pat will wrestle, instead of box, the cowboy declares, he will find himself on the short end of the decision again, and more decisively than before.

Tickets will remain on sale until 6 o'clock this afternoon at Davidson-Paxon's and the Piedmont Hatters, afterward being transferred to the box office at the park. Ladies will be admitted, as usual, for 75 cents.

Night Baseball For Atlanta Is Ended

The Atlanta Crackers' night baseball season for 1932 probably ended last night's game.

A heavy dew which fell on the outfield made footing treacherous and did considerable damage to new baseballs, causing a half dozen or so to be thrown out after becoming wet. The shoes of both infielders and outfielders were soggy and heavy, making the fielding slow.

Business Manager Roos issued a statement after the game that the dates prevented a game this season. Chattanooga, who won the S. I. A. A. title last year, defeated the Petrels in the opening game here, 12-7, after Oglethorpe had led until the last three minutes of play.

"I believe that game got Harry Robertson's team started wrong for he had one of the best coached teams I played all season," Moore stated. The latter loses Art Koening, star center, but returns Smith and Haswell, star backs. He hopes to repeat with a championship or at least a good finish.

Equipose Entered In Hawthorne Race

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Equipose, C. V. Whitney's handicapped champion, will be entered to action with a victory at Saratoga Saturday, will come west for the Hawthorne gold cup August 27, according to word from Trainer Fred Hopkins.

PETERSON LOSES.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Drew Kimrey, 202, of Charlotte, N. C., tonight won a hairline decision over Big Boy Peterson, 205, New Orleans, in a slow 10-round heavyweight fight here.

Bob Hasty Due In '33---Milan

"Bob Hasty will make the Crackers a great pitcher next year," declared Clyde Milan, manager of the Birmingham Barons, who owned him for the better part of three seasons.

"Hasty is what we call an ever-ready great pitcher; he was still a great pitcher when I let him go, but he was having all kinds of hard luck; he requested that we sell him to Atlanta, since he has always wanted to play ball here and as we needed the money, that was the principal reason we let him go," Milan added.

PROBERS DISCOUNT RANSOM BILL CLUE

Serial Numbers Tally But Plate Numbers Differ From Published List.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Inspector John Bird, of the Royal Canadian mounted police at Montreal, said tonight that the serial numbers of some bills deposited at the Bank of Nova Scotia in Albert, N. B., corresponded with those on ransom money paid in the Lindbergh kidnapping case, but the plate numbers differed. He said he was inclined to believe there was no connection between the deposit and the $50,000 ransom which Dr. J. F. Condon, of New York, paid to the supposed kidnappers of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

A list of the numbers was forwarded to mounted police headquarters at Ottawa and Inspector Bird said any further action would await word from United States authorities. The numbers on the notes were not made public.

The money was deposited at Albert by Miss Carrie Anderson, a nurse of Hampton, Va., the police said. It consisted of three twenty-dollar bills, two tens and two fives.

Miss Anderson is spending a vacation at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Martin, of Albert. She was not questioned by the bank of police and when interviewed today expressed surprise that her deposit had been linked with the ransom money.

"I got the money from the bank in Hampton, Virginia, before leaving for Albert," she said, adding that she obtained it to finance her visit to Albert.

"The manager of the bank down there is F. W. Durling," she said. "Surely he would know if the money I brought to New Brunswick was connected with the Lindbergh ransom. Everybody is watching carefully all money in circulation for the purpose of detecting, if possible, the bills under question."

SHAW'S NEW PLAY FAILS TO IMPRESS BRITISH CRITICS

LONDON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Adverse London criticisms of George Bernard Shaw's new play "Too True to Be Good," gave the veteran playwright a shavian laugh today.

"As usual," he said, "the majority of the critics have not been equal to the occasion. I cannot help being about 50 years ahead of them. The play was first seen in England at Malyen festival Saturday. The critics' views were typified by the criticism of the Sunday Express, which said:

"It is Shaw's despairing effort to be modern and it puts him, a dusty relic, forever on the shelf."

CONSTABLE IS HELD IN PLANTER'S DEATH

CLARKSDALE, Miss., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Frank Hamilton, local constable, was held here today on a charge of murder in connection with the death of W. K. Lavender, who succumbed to a ruptured spleen at a local hospital late yesterday.

Lavender, one of the county's most prominent young planters, is said to have approached Hamilton last Thursday about the arrest of some negroes by the officer on Lavender's plantation. An argument and altercation resulted, Hamilton removing his badge and gun.

First Prize in Songame Is Enough for European Cruise

40 Cash Prizes, Ranging Up to $1,000, To Be Given for Right Song Title Answers; Duplicate Pictures May Be Had for Extra Sets.

BY THE SONGAME EDITOR.

How would you like to take a trip to Europe? Or to some other faraway place you've always longed to visit? With new low rates in effect, the first prize of $1,000 in The Constitution's delightful Songame is ample to finance such a real vacation.

As the days slip quickly by, Songame players are coming nearer and nearer to the 40 prizes, totaling $1,800. The first prize is $1,000; the second, $400; the third, $100; the fourth, $50; and the fifth, $25. There are 10 prizes of $10 each and 25 prizes of $5 each.

Songame followers who have lost or misplaced any pictures of the series, or who have decided to submit more than one set of answers, may easily lose duplicate pictures. The back pictures have been reprinted, and may be had by calling at The Constitution, or by mail, when postage is included. The first 15 pictures are free, while pictures from No. 16 up are 5 cents apiece, which is, of course, the regular price of the issues of The Constitution in which they appeared.

Those who desire may still obtain copies of the valuable and interesting list of songs, which will prove helpful in finding the correct answers. The list will gladly be given to readers who call at the circulation department, or to those who write in and enclose a 2-cent stamp.

The Constitution continues to make available the book, "Songs We All Love," by Everett Randall Henderson. This publication was used by the artist in selecting the 80 song titles to be illustrated in the Songame. Thus it has all of the correct answers. At the request of a number of Songame players, The Constitution arranged with the publishers to sell "Songs We All Love." It is 50 cents a copy. Four cents extra should be added when ordering this book by mail.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

It's Up to You.

Q. Will you please state in your daily question and answer column whether all the correct titles to pictures printed so far are to be found in the free list? And will contestants be notified in print when this list is no longer an unfilling reference?

A. The correct song title answers for the first 35 pictures are to be found in the list. This list contains the answers for many more of the pictures, but I regret that I am not permitted to state just how many or which ones, and contestants will have to decide that for themselves.

Q. It was printed under picture 29 that the correct answer could be found in the free list of song titles, but the best answer that I can find to fit that picture is found in the book "Songs We All Love," and is not on the free list. Perhaps you made a mistake, and I am writing to find out.—E. W., Eochton, Ga.

A. That statement was correct and the answer for picture No. 29 is on the free list. It may be that you overlooked it, and possibly will come across it later.

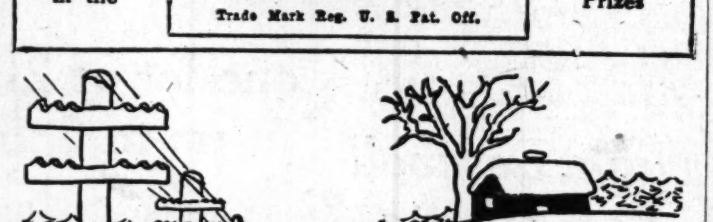

LIST HAS MANY ANSWERS.

Q. Does the free list contain the song title to picture No. 30? Can the song titles of any of the pictures from No. 35 to No. 80 be found on the free list? Is it necessary that contestants buy anything to become eligible for a prize in the Songame?—A. C. B., Point Peter, Ga.

A. The free list contains all of the correct answers for the first 35 pictures. I am not permitted to answer your question as to No. 36. A great many of the answers after No. 35 can be found on the list. It is not necessary for a contestant to buy anything, obtain subscriptions, or do any outside work, in order to be eligible for a prize in the Songame.

Anonymous letters from contestants who ask interesting questions frequently cannot, because of limited space, be answered in this column. Contestants can only be assured of answers to their written questions when they sign their names and addresses. Only their initials will be used if their questions are of general interest and are answered here.

Cheer Up and Tune in the SONGAME

Don't let this picture "stump" you. If you can't recall the title answer that fits it, or any of the other pictures of the series, be sure to obtain a copy of the valuable and helpful list of songs offered free to Constitution readers. A copy of this interesting list may be had by calling at the circulation department, or by mail for a 2-cent stamp.

INSTRUCTIONS:

$1,800 in cash will be awarded Songame followers who find the most correct song title answers for the 80 pictures, which will be published serially in The Constitution. The first prize is $1,000; the second, $400; the third, $100; the fourth, $50, and the fifth, $25. There are ten prizes of $10 each, and twenty-five prizes of $5 each.

There is no red tape. It is not necessary to get subscriptions in order to quality for any of the prizes, nor is it necessary to register. Non-subscribers have the same opportunity to win one of the forty prizes as subscribers. There will be no tie-breaking series of pictures to solve, or extra work of any kind to do. The correct answers are what count.

The Songame pictures and answers are not to be submitted until all of the pictures have been published. Then they are to be brought or sent in at one time, as a set.

Minister's Love Verse Is Revealed In Probe of First Mate's Death

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Aug. 8.—(AP)

A clergyman's love story, part of it told in verse, was unfolded today to a grand jury investigating the death of his first wife.

The Rev. S. A. Berrie, 52-year-old pastor, remained in jail "for investigation" while the jury, peering into events surrounding the death of his first wife last March, heard testimony from his girl bride of less than three months. Ida Bess Berrie, former Sunday school teacher in his church.

Twenty minutes after the 10-year-old bride had entered the grand jury room, she departed, calm and dry-eyed. Last night she was released from custody on orders of County Attorney Phil K. Oldham, who said he felt she was a "victim of circumstances."

Amorous poems said by officers to have been penned by the preacher while Berrie's former wife was living, were taken before the jury along with medical testimony concerning the alleged poison death. The notes, authorities declared, were found in a bookcase at the home of Berrie and his bride.

Both have vigorously denied any guilty knowledge of the first Mrs. Berrie's death, although investigators said they admitted the authenticity of the missives, once they had ended: "I do not care what the world may say."

If your love for me is true, I do not mind the heat of the day. If I know at the end I'll see you. Will you wait these days to welcome me?

As I come to you at rest? And whisper low, "Dear heart I know

That I love you, I love you best."

Berrie's former wife collapsed at a church lecture March 21, dying the same evening. Officers said she had swallowed a capsule, presumably containing a sedative, prior to the lecture. Last week the body was exhumed and, officers said, was found to contain poison "sufficient to kill."

Berrie and his present wife were married May 17. The minister, who has one son, resigned about a month following his wife's death from the pastorate of the Cumberland Presbyterian church here. A considerable portion of the congregation then withdrew from the church and formed the Bethel Presbyterian church with Berrie as pastor.

Berrie now is appealing from a Cumberland Presbyterian verdict finding him guilty of teaching doctrines contrary to the church beliefs. There was no indication when the grand jury would act.

BEAUTIES TO APPEAR AT MARATHON DANCE

Miss Mary Crawford, of Smyrna, who Saturday night was awarded the title of "Miss Georgia," together with Miss Crawford, with Miss Miss Redwine, second place winner, and Miss Clarissa Wright, third place, will be given several valuable gifts at their presence tonight.

As the marathon approached the 1,200-hour mark, most of the eight couples and one solo dancer remaining were showing visible signs of weakening, and the management announced it expected a number of the dancers to be forced to drop out. At 2 o'clock this morning the entire remaining couples eagerly grasped the opportunity to rest, and it is expected the next 12 hours will prove a determining phase of the contest.

Tibbett Likes Gay New Game of Songs

Equally at home on the operatic stage or before Hollywood cameras, Lawrence Tibbett has mastered and triumphed in many roles. His rich and powerful voice has been the medium for perpetuating many of the melodies to be found in The Constitution's $1,800 Songame. Tibbett points out that "the Songame will go far toward acquainting readers with great songs and great instrumental music."

BONUS VETS TO START JOURNEY TO MEXICO

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 8.—(AP)—A transcontinental trek of jobless World War veterans to a haven in Mexico was planned tonight.

The plans for the trip were laid by Doak Carter, leader of a wing of the disabled bonus seekers, upon receipt of an offer from Charles P. Reiniger, of Los Angeles, to turn a tract of 15,000 acres of land over to the marchers for colonization.

Carter immediately issued orders for his followers to head generally southwest and took steps to meet with Reiniger in Columbus and sign a lease proposed by the land owner.

Described by Reiniger as fertile bottom land, the tract is situated in the state of Chihuahua, only a few miles across the Rio Grande. It will be given to the veterans, Reiniger said in his telegraphed offer, under a lease which will run until the bonus is paid.

Meanwhile, approximately 150 marchers who followed the former leader to Huntington from Johnstown, Pa., where the camp was broken up, headed out of Huntington, presumably toward the west.

Their departure followed a drive launched by Police Chief Ben Robinson against any persons in Huntington without visible means of support. Two men were arrested in the drive.

FLORIDA JUDGE LAUDS POLICE CO-OPERATION

TAMPA, Fla., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Federal Judge Alexander Akerman in a formal statement today praised local police for their activities over the week-end in co-operation with federal agents.

He had written recently to Amos W. W. Woodcock, national director of prohibition enforcement, that the local officers were not aiding government agents in cleaning up the liquor situation in this section. The judge wrote Director Woodcock advising him to send a force here large enough to arrest all violators, or withdraw government forces entirely.

Police court docket was crowded today with names of those arrested for violation of prohibition and anti-gambling laws.

MACHINIST IS SOUGHT IN SLAYING OF GIRL, 14

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—(UP)—John Santis, 22-year-old machinist, was hunted by police tonight as the county grand jury met to study yesterday's "back murder" of 14-year-old Dina Sideris. The girl's body, the head crushed and bruised, was found, wrapped in burlap sacks, on a street corner.

Atlantans Are Invited To See Constitution's 'Happy Kitchen'

More than 85 per cent of the average family income is spent for food, according to Mrs. Kate B. Stafford, who will conduct the four-day cooking school for The Constitution at Keith's Georgia theater August 16-19. She will tell her audiences in Atlanta just why every housewife should know the scientific principles back of everyday cooking. "Whether the family income is large or small," she says, "cooking and eating must go on. The kitchen is the heart of the home and it should be made a place of happiness. Dispositions are made in the kitchen and why not happy dispositions?"

"The woman who goes to her daily task in the kitchen with boredom, is missing a great enjoyment that can be hers. She can turn her kitchen into a laboratory of creativeness. So long as the housewife must cook for the family or must at least plan the meals, why not get some fun out of it?"

In her cooking school, Mrs. Stafford will teach the women of Atlanta how to get fun out of the kitchen—how to have a "happy kitchen," which is the name she gives her meal kitchen, used in the demonstrations. Come and see this "happy kitchen" and hear this charming woman discuss the most practical way the science of cooking.

Miss Mary Taylor, of Decatur, Is Chosen "Miss Camp Highland"

Miss Mary Taylor, of 205 Columbia drive, Decatur, was chosen as "Miss Camp Highland" at the ceremonies celebrating Highland Day, Saturday afternoon. Miss Sarah Lawrence, 10385 Aron avenue, won the Lucy Marvin Adams tennis trophy by successfully eliminating all other contestants in a spirited tournament which lasted from 11 to 3 o'clock. Speculation ran high as to the recipient of the silver loving cup, donated by Mrs. Fred Patterson, chairman of the camp committee and awarded to the best all-round camper. Miss Taylor was unanimously selected by the counselors, but the name remained a secret until announced at the beginning of the pageant, when the enthusiastic cheering of the campers sounded a sincere second to the counselors' nomination.

In a series of grueling matches which were likened to a miniature Olympiad, Miss Sarah Lawrence fought her way to the finals and then by defeating Miss Martha Fite, of Dalton, Ga., proved her title as "1932 Tennis Champion." This tournament is an annual feature of Highland Day, and unless Miss Lawrence defends her title next year, the trophy will be passed to the next winner. The handsome silver loving cup, known as the Lucy Marvin Adams trophy, was presented to Camp Highland by Mrs. D. H. H. Simpson, formerly Doris Williams, who spent many happy days at Highland. Other contestants were Miss Elizabeth McCord, Miss Jacque Poole and Miss Martha Fite. Mrs. Cullen Gossell, member of the camp committee, presided in the absence of Mrs. Fred Patterson, chairman, who is out of the city.

The closing week-end at Camp Highland was marked by a record crowd of visitors, campers and club girls who enjoyed the pageant, swimming, frolics, hikes, dance and other entertainment. Sunday morning, Miss Carrie Lou Allgood had charge of the worship service, with Miss Clara Nolen, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., describing girls in other countries and how much the Y. W. C. A. means in their lives. The twilight vesper services were conducted by Claude Nelson, secretary of the student Y. M. C. A., who gave a splendid interpretation of "The Quest of God Through Abundant Living." Sunday evening campers gathered for the last time around the camp fire singing favorite songs.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

Planning the Attack

Many bridge players apparently suffer under the impression that their skill in the play of the game is shown by the number of finesses they attempt. A finesse is an encircling movement, which seeks to take advantage of the position of adversely held honors and thereby gain a trick. If there is no other way of finding the necessary trick, then, of course, a finesse should be taken, but many hands on which unsuccessful finesses are attempted would lend themselves to another method of development, if the Declarer would properly plan the play.

I recently saw a hand dealt at Duplicate Bridge, in an important tournament, upon which even some very strong players failed to find the proper continuation to produce game. The manner in which one Declarer found the game-going trick was interesting, although actually the method should have suggested itself to all.

North and South vulnerable.

Financial markets refused to recover from recently charted course.

Rather, they set additional sail, proceeding a wind that at times appeared to be a breeze.

Stocks, far from the euphoria of last week's record, stormed upward by last turnover of 5,444,380 shares, the largemarket's average rise being approximately a full point.

Shares closed well under their

highs, but net gains of many ledgers ran from 1 to 6 points. At the best they were up roughly 2 to 8,

with strength once more well distributed.

Cotton fell back from its top, holding more than $4 a bale of its extreme rise.

Realizing sales surged through the stock list at intervals, but not until the last hour did they cut much of a dent.

COTTON FUTURES

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(AP)—

The department of agriculture today

forecast an 11,300,000-bale cotton crop for this year, 5,700,000 less than last year's production, and thereby commodity prices in the market.

The prediction was made by the department's chief statistician, who said the estimate was based on a survey of the cotton crop in the United States and Mexico.

The forecast showed the condition of the crop on August 1 was 65.6

per cent of normal compared with

74.9 a year ago and 66.4, the 10-year average.

The indicated yield of lint cotton was placed at 149.6 pounds per acre

compared with 152.2 pounds last year and 151.4 pounds the 10-year average.

The first ginning report made public today by the census bureau showed 70,978 running bales, counting round bales as half bales, counting approximately 3,000,000 bales.

Chairman Stone, of the board, said

today the low forecast would not affect the board's plan to sell 650,000

bales in the crop year beginning August 1, 1932.

That old familiar pest of Dixie, the boll weevil, has had nature on his side

throughout the present cotton ginning season. The department said infestations were general throughout the Mississippi river, the delta and along the Mississippi river, the delta and heaviest planting in the place.

The aid of nature came in the form of a wet season which encouraged the planting of cotton in many places.

The department said such a loss from weevils even more than caused the difference at this time.

The difference in this year's crop forecast would be more than absorbed by the increase in the acreage of the department said in the delta and in addition to the 3,000,000 bales

being held in storage in the country.

He added that a pickup in textile production, which he said seemed probable, would cause rapid inroads into this surplus stock of cotton.

The professional traders on the board said production costs per bale this year would be the lowest in recent years.

The department, in commenting on the forecast, said it was based on a

AIR EXPRESS SERVICE COMES TO ATLANTA

Planes From Coast and New York Arrive Laden With Parcels.

Atlanta's serviceable position as a gateway for distribution of commerce to and from the south, the west and the Atlantic seaboard was again graphically emphasized Monday when the first flight of air express brought to the airport 16 cargoes of packages on planes that started in cities as remote from each other as New York and Los Angeles and Chicago and Miami, Fla.

From dawn to dusk, and then on through the night swift carriers of the sky were arriving and departing, each with its newly acquired quota of express. This continuous stream of commodities was only temporarily halted at the airport for separation into groups destined for planes departing in every direction. Night planes from New York on the Eastern Air Transport line, and from Chicago on American Airways line brought their burdens of express for Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and states west of the Mississippi river. Outgoing planes for New York, Miami, Dallas, Los Angeles and Cleveland, Ohio, took off with cargoes of mixed freight all of which will be at destination points before business starts Tuesday morning.

Major James L. Key, with chairman Joseph E. Berman of the city council's aviation committee, both enthusiastic air transport supporters, were at the field at 6 p. m. to welcome in the big tri-motor plane bearing the first express shipments over General Air Express from the Pacific coast. They greeted Pilot Paul Carpenter, of American Airways, and then watched the transfer of the packages for points north and east to the New York night mail plane of Eastern Air Transport, piloted by L. E. McLaughlin. Aerial officers of the Postal Telegraph Company were at the field also to see that the first flight packages, incoming and outgoing, were moving promptly. Mayor Key was particularly pleased at the volume of business handled at the field on the first day of the new business enterprise and he warmly congratulated representatives of the two air lines.

"This is a big day in Atlanta's history," he told Chairman Berman. "You and I will live to see a constant line of transport planes arriving and departing from this airport, each laden with commodities of this and other sections of the country. What Atlanta formerly missed by not being a seaport she has now regained in her air lines activities. We are an important center of the national and international network, just as New York, Southampton, Hamburg and Liverpool are centers of marine commerce.

Among the commodities arriving and departing at the airport during the first day of the new air express were gardenias and other cut flowers from California and northern Mexico, destined for New York and Washington; packages of films showing the Olympic games at Los Angeles; ice cream, candies, clothing, fruits, glassware and various kinds of gifts.
